First Round of Flu At Peak; Second Outbreak Possible

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U. S. Public Health Service said today there are indications the first round of the Asian influenza epidemic probably has reached its peak in all parts of the nation except the Pacific coast states.

But many health authorities have advanced the opinion that a "second round" of the disease is coming. They have said this one may hit mainly adults; the first seemed to touch more younger persons.

Japan already is suffering under a second round of what has been identified as Asian Flu. The number of persons afflicted is reported to be greater than during the "first round."

Many American medical experts have stressed that vaccine against Asian Flu should be secured.

The number of deaths in the U. S. from influenza and pneumonia in 108 cities dropped burning the week ended Nov. 16 to 782. This was 13 per cent below the number in the preceding week.

* * *

ALSO, THE number of deaths in 114 cities from all causes last week was down 3 per cent from the preceding week, to a total of 12,222.

The weekly summary said there were 780,000 new cases reported or estimated by 36 states for the week ended Nov. 16, compared with 1,100,000 by 38 states in the week ended Nov. 9. This pushed to at least 9,130,000 the estimated total of Asian flu cases since early June, based on incomplete reports.

Meanwhile, Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, Ohio's health director, today outlined a six-point program he wants eating-place operators to follow to combat a possible spread of Asian Flu.

Dr. Dwork said the epidemic appears to be leveling off but warned there could be a second wave of Asian Flu in Ohio.

He called on eating-place operators to use special precautions in handling of food and dishes and to see that all employes watch their personal hygiene.

The doctor wants all persons who handle food to be told again how they can handle soiled dishes and glasses, napkins and table cloths and not pick up and transmit possible infection.

* * *

DISHWASHING methods should be doublechecked to make sure they are killing all germs.

Towels, cups and other toilet articles should be used by one person only.

Workers with nose and throat infections should not handle food or utensils or come in contact with other employes or customers.

Employes should be reminded to cover coughs and sneezes, of the need to wash their hands frequently and to keep their hands out of food.

Work should be arranged to avoid unnecessary fatigue among employes.

Egypt To Get Big Soviet Loan

$175 Million Amount Said Negotiated

CAIRO (AP) — Russia's pledge of economic aid for Egypt is reported to mean a $175 million loan for President Nasser's five-year industrialization plan.

The semiofficial Middle East News Agency said the agreement announced in Moscow Tuesday calls for Russia to provide 700 million rubles worth of aid. The official Soviet exchange rate is four rubles to the dollar.

Neither a joint Russian-Egyptian communique nor the Egyptian news agency report said what form the aid would take. But it was assumed that, as in the case of Syria, the rubles would pay for Russian materials, equipment and technical advisers.

Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, the Egyptian war minister who negotiated the agreement with the Kremlin, flew home from Moscow Wednesday in a Soviet jet airliner. He gave Nasser a two-hour report on his visit.

* * *

ALTHOUGH Soviet Premier Bulganin had said Russia's aid to Egypt and other Middle East countries is "selfless," the communique said Amer and the Kremlinites had discussed "political cooperation" as well as economic cooperation and military questions. There was no elaboration of this.

The Middle East News Agency said that starting in five years Egypt would repay the loan over a 12-year period.

Magazine's Pennies Enrich Boys Club

Last spring, Readers Digest magazine mailed out 100 million pennies, two each enclosed in letters to prospective subscribers.

However, 1½ million letters came back because of wrong addresses. That meant a return of three million pennies, or $30,000.

Magazine officials blanched at the thought of opening all those returned letters and digging out the coppers. They offered them to the boys club on a 50-50 basis.

Thus far the club has banked $5,000.

NATO Forces To Fight Back Fast--Dulles

No War Declaration To Be Awaited if Allies Are Attacked

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says that forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would "almost certainly fight back" without waiting for a declaration of war if attacked.

Dulles said Wednesday night such a decision would be made on the spot by field commanders. He said the attack "almost certainly would involve American troops because the NATO forces are so intermingled."

Fire certainly would be returned, he added, "if it were something comparable to Pearl Harbor, say."

The remarks arose from a question about the "time for decision" in the event of a possible atomic attack on NATO forces.

Adlai Stevenson, the two-time Democratic presidential candidate who has become a consultant to the Eisenhower administration on Atlantic Alliance problems, came to Chicago with Dulles. He told reporters he will do all he can to help in his post as consultant to the Republican administration.

* * *

HOWEVER, Stevenson added that he was "certainly not" a member of President Eisenhower's team. He said he has not been asked to attend next month's big NATO meeting in Paris with Eisenhower and Dulles. "There won't be a decision on that until later," he said.

Stevenson says that he will review and discuss U. S. plans to be placed before the NATO conferees.

Dulles said Stevenson "will be on the federal payroll a long, long time." If the former Illinois governor approves of this country's NATO proposals, Dulles said, he has expressed a willingness to work for their adoption abroad and in this country.

He said Stevenson is on the government payroll and that the pay for consultants is $50 a day "or something like that."

Dulles, in an extemporaneous speech before members of the Council on Foreign Relations Wednesday night, said the launching of Russian earth satellites would be a very good thing indeed if they lead us to realize the magnitude of our peril.

The only possible means of meeting this threat, he said, was in cooperation with other free nations—a policy which he said has been successful since 1950. There has been virtually no extension of Soviet domain since then, he said.

The Russians, he said, are trying to make a deal with the United States under which the United States would drop all bans on the sale to them of strategic goods, acquiesce in the Soviet control over Eastern Europe and either demote or drop our Western allies.

This is too heavy a price to pay, he said, because no country which ever made a deal with the Russians ever got what they promised.

Missing Woman's Fortune 'Vanishes'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A prosecution witness in the murder trial of L. Ewing Scott has testified the defendant's missing wife Evelyn converted $222,929 worth of securities into cash during the couple's six years together.

Scott, 61-year - old investment counselor, is accused of murdering his wife and concealing her body to get control of her estate.

Thomas B. Doherty, a district attorney's accountant, told the jury Wednesday that Mrs. Scott's estate, once valued at $600,000, has dwindled and that $57,000 of it is still unaccounted for.

Mrs. Scott vanished from the couple's home here May 16, 1955. Scott maintains she is still alive and will return some day and explain her absence.

Architect Outlines Plans for Modern Sewage Treatment Plant

Working Drawings for New Miami Trace High School To Be Started Immediately

An immediate start on working drawings for the new Miami Trace High School building at Eber was assured Wednesday night at a conference among board members and John L. Kline, Springfield, the board's architect.

The legal action which the board took directly to the Ohio Supreme Court in an effort to remove any doubt as to the validity of a $1,652,500 bond issue voted by the district in November of 1956 has not yet been finally resolved but the board expressed its desire to be ready to proceed quickly when the case is completed.

* * *

ALTHOUGH it was estimated that a year's delay in construction of the building caused by litigation, may cost the district $80,000 because of rising prices, it was the board's feeling that this potential loss could be overcome by a limited reduction in facilities, and that by preparing for the earliest possible start when the court case is resolved the money received from the sale of bonds would cover adequately the cost of the building program.

Working drawings, which are the last step in preparation for awarding contracts, probably can be completed in from five to seven months, Kline told the board at its regular session.

Kline pointed out that the general plans, which include a modern sewage treatment plant capable of reducing sewage to an effluent so pure as to be drinkable, have had preliminary study by the Ohio Department of Health.

Plants of this type, Kline said, cost approximately $25,000 to $50,000.

* * *

ADEQUATE provision for the most acceptable type of sewage treatment plant has been included in the overall estimate, he told the small group of citizens attending the meeting.

Kline explained that the plant will include multiple filter beds and a garbage disposal arrangement which provides much more complete treatment than most existing school treatment systems.

The final purified effluent will go into a running stream at a spot to be selected by the Ohio Department of Health. The effluent would be odorless except during the hottest period of the summer when school will not be in session anyway, Kline said.

The architect said the sewage treatment plans will have the unqualified approval of the Water Pollution Control Board before it can be built and that there will be frequent inspections during the progress of the construction as well as a final inspection.

The final effluent will be purer than the stream into which it flows, Kline assured the board.

THE NEW high school itself is to cost $1,275,000. The bond issue figure also includes $12,500 for acquisition of the necessary real estate, $275,000 for furniture and furnishings for the new school and an additional $90,000 for the improvement of existing non - fireproof buildings.

Only business transacted by the board was routine in nature, including renewal of a contract with Howard Mauk for cleaning septic tanks at most of the existing district schools at a cost of $550.

The board approved current bills and payrolls and informally discussed school transportation matters.

There was also brief discussion of previously approved minor amendments to a school district policy statement setting forth the duties of school principals.

Butcher Files Insanity Plea

Wisconsin Farmer's Lawyer Asks for Test

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP) — Edward Gein, admitted butcher-slayer of a middle-age business woman, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity when he was arraigned today on a charge of first degree murder. He was ordered held without bond for trial.

His attorney said he would seek an immediate mental test for his client and he added "I don't see how there could be any other conclusion but that the man is insane."

William Belter, counsel for the 51-year-old bachelor farmer who has told authorities he killed two women and robbed graves to obtain nine other human skulls found in his home, said a psychiatric examination could be ordered summarily by a judge.

Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen of Waushara County said he would not oppose a motion for a sanity examination.

Under questioning at the state crime laboratory at Madison Wednesday, Gein admitted, according to Director Charles Wilson, that he killed and butchered Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58-year-old Plainfield hardware store operator, and also killed Mrs. Mary Hogan, 54, tavern operator at Bancroft, Wis., who had been missing since Dec. 8, 1954.

* * *

FIRST DEGREE murder is a premeditated killing. Conviction carries a mandatory life term.

"We want to get this thing over with as quickly as possible," said Kileen. "Our only interest is seeing that justice is done in the killing of Mrs. Worden."

In a dispatch from Madison, Wis., the Tribune said it learned that Gein, "a shy, sly, mild-mannered bachelor, had wanted to be a woman and that he said this compulsion prompted him to kill women and steal other bodies from graves to get parts to wear upon his own body."

The story said "this most appalling denouncement of the entire case" came after Charles Wilson, head of the state crime laboratory, reported that Gein had ad-

In Step with Dulles?

ADLAI STEVENSON is walking beside Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Washington's National airport, but Capitol sources are wondering if he will "stay in step" with the administration's program for strengthening NATO. Stevenson, who has agreed to serve as a consultant to the President and Dulles has conferred with a number of leading Democrats.

Red Arms Stand Irking Neutrals

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Russia's brushoff of Western efforts to break the disarmament deadlock may have demonstrated her new ICBM-Sputnik "position of strength." But it also put a severe strain on her friendship with many neutral nations.

Delegates infer this from the lineup in the smashing 60-9 U.N. Assembly endorsement of the West's plan to increase the 12-nation Disarmament Commission to 25 members.

Only the Soviet bloc voted against the proposal despite Russia's warning she would boycott the talks unless half the nations at the conference were Communist or neutral.

The West had been confident of victory on the vote. But few had expected Syria and Egypt, who receive economic and military aid from Moscow, to vote for the plan. Nor had they anticipated support from such Asian neutrals as Ceylon and Indonesia, who usually show a marked preference for Soviet ideas.

* * *

A NUMBER of usually pro-Soviet delegations were deeply disturbed by Russia's ever-increasing demands during the East-West negotiations last week on enlarging the commission.

Yugoslav Communists, who played a key role in trying to bring the two sides together, became so annoyed by the Soviet tactics that they divorced themselves from the sponsor's list.

India, who originated the move to enlarge the commission, did not appreciate Russia's sudden rejection of the plan after the Indians had persuaded the West to go along with the compromise.

The Soviets also angered Austria and Finland, who chided them in the Assembly for placing their names on the Red list of commission candidates without telling them in advance.

Most delegates could not accept Russia's contention that half the commission should be made up of Communists and neutrals. The Reds only total one ninth of the Assembly, and even a Communist-neutral census adds up to less than half the 82 nations.

After the Soviets had turned down three Western compromise offers, it became apparent to many that Russia had no intention of taking part in U. N. arms negotiations at this stage and would find some pretext for opposing any compromise.

Many diplomats believe the Kremlin leaders, bolstered by their spectacular success with space missiles, consider U. N. disarmament negotiations a waste of time and want the talks limited to the United States and Russia.

Plane Belly-Lands In Warren County

DAYTON (AP)—Three persons escaped without serious injury today when their twin-engined airplane made a forced belly landing in a field south of here.

The plane which belonged to the Wright-Patterson Air Development Center was piloted by Maj. Thomas R. Risher of Dayton. Co-pilot was Capt. Orville O. Scroggin of Fairborn and Isaac Harris of Columbus was a passenger. Harris, a project engineer at the Wright Air Development Center, suffered a slight leg injury.

Authorities at Wright-Patterson said the plane was on a routine equipment check when it developed engine trouble and crashed in the field five miles west of Waynesville in Warren County.

Union Thanksgiving Service At First Presbyterian Church

The annual Union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Fayette County Ministerial Assn. will be held this year in the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p. m. next Wednesday.

The Rev. Donis D. Patterson, minister-in-charge of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving message, but four other ministers will participate in the service.

The Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will give the call to worship and the opening prayer. The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, and the Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church, will read the Scripture. The Rev. Harold Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will lead the prayer litany and pronounce the benediction.

The only special music will be a solo by Robert Newmann. Miss Marian Christopher will play the organ accompaniment for the singing of three hymns by the congregation.

The offering will go to the Christian Rural Overseas Program through Church World Service. Each dollar contributed will send 200 pounds of food to the hungry under the "Share Our Surplus" program, utilizing government surplus food stocks.

Most of the churches in the community also will have their own Thanksgiving services Sunday and are having special Thanksgiving programs during weekday evenings.

Three Adjoining Tracts Sold at Sheriff's Sale

The Fayette County Agricultural Society, after eight years of litigation, acquired title to the Fairground property at sheriff's sale Wednesday afternoon.

The price paid for the 39.774-acre tract, which includes the Fair buildings was $44,600. Ray Brandenburg, president of the Agricultural Society, represented that group at the sale.

Fayette County Commissioners already had a 20 year option on the Fairground proper. The lease will not expire until 1970.

The auction, conducted by Sheriff Orland Hays, was the culmination of two partition suits, and three other tracts adjoining the Fairground proper also were "knocked down" to the highest bidders.

The four tracts, appraised at a total value of $85,514.40, brought $75,900 under the hammer of Auctioneer W. O. Bumgarner. The Fairground acreage itself was appraised at $66,450.40.

* * *

A TRACT of less than one acre on Fairview Ave., between the Anderson Drive-In Restaurant and the Fairground main entrance gate, brought the most spirited bidding from the crowd of approximately 50 which attended the sale. Appraised at $2,328 it was finally sold to Anderson Bros., operators of the restaurant, for $6,500. The buyers indicated that they purchased it for "possible expansion."

The next high bidder on the tract was Herbert Nushawg who bought

Beef Cattle 'Boom' Seen Due in '58

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said today the chances are good that farmers will make at least average profits from feeding of slaughter cattle next year.

In fact, the agency said, there is a possibility that profits may exceed present expectations.

Officials explained at a farm outlook conference attended by state extension workers and educators that a new cattle "boom" is in the making. By this they mean that the demand for beef is strong enough to encourage farmers to produce more beef.

As a consequence, many producers are holding back for breeding purposes cattle which otherwise would go to market for slaughter. They are encouraged to do this by the strong consumer prices and by the declining prices of livestock feed.

But past experience shows, officials said, that there is a danger that producers may overexpand. Then would come a decline in cattle prices with feeding operation causing losses rather than netting profits.

Officials predicted that the low point in prices of cattle fattened this winter for next year's slaughter markets will come later than the normal February. That is because feeding operations got a later start this season than normal.

Woman Blind 18 Years Sees With New Electronic Eye

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—"Oh, I can see the light."

It was in these words that a woman blind for 18 years described her reaction to a new electronic device, her surgeons said.

The woman, Betty Corstorphine, 35, underwent a series of tests in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Los Angeles, last month using a photoelectric cell connected to wires in her brain.

"I saw flashes, at one time a bright flash like an electric light bulb, and at another time a grayness as though a light had just gone out," she said.

Dr. John C. Button said the test showed that brain cells did not atrophy like unused muscle cells but could be stimulated.

Saying that the test "opens the door to the possibilities of electronic vision," he predicted that with adequate funds medical science could refine the apparatus so that within five years almost all blind people could "see" by means of electrical stimulus of the vision centers.

"Eventually," he said, "I'm sure we'll get real sight."

Button, a 46-year-old neurologist who lives in nearby Maplewood, described the device that may eventually be developed as "something like a radarscope or television set."

Miss Corstorphine, who volunteered for the tests begun last Oct. 28, has been blind since 1939 because of the pressure of an inoperable, benign tumor on her optic nerve.

Button said wires about half the thickness of a human hair were passed through drilled holes into Miss Corstorphine's brain.

They were then pushed about two inches into the back of the brain to the centers of vision.

The wires were attached to a transistor amplifier which, in turn was connected to a small photoelectric cell. The theory was that the photoelectric cell would pick up light and convert it into a mild electric charge, thereby stimulating the brain.

Miss Corstorphine was given the cell and told to point it about a partially darkened room. As the cell was pointed toward lights placed about the room, Miss Corstorphine said she received flashes of light.

In further tests, Button said, she could pick up flashes from lights as dim as a 40-watt bulb.

The device, he said, can work on any blindness except that caused by injury to the center of vision deep in the brain. "And," he added, "there aren't many of them."

Californian Says He May Just Stay On His New Island

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — What would you do if you suddenly won a South Pacific island complete with furnished hut, outrigger canoe and a native man Friday?

Well, the Kent Shelbys, who won an island in a national limerick contest sponsored by a movie studio, have this to say:

"We intend to bask in the sun and just fish and swim and read and let the rest of the world go by."

Shelby, 23, an aircraft worker, said he, his wife and 15-month-old daughter plan to fly to the 4½-acre island in the Fiji group about the first of the year.

"If it's as good as it sounds we may never come back," Shelby said.

ALTHOUGH it was estimated that a year's delay in construction of the building caused by litigation, may cost the district $80,000 because of rising prices, it was the board's feeling that this potential loss could be overcome by a limited reduction in facilities, and that by preparing for the earliest possible start when the court case is resolved the money received from the sale of bonds would cover adequately the cost of the building program.

Working drawings, which are the last step in preparation for awarding contracts, probably can be completed in from five to seven months, Kline told the board at its regular session.

Kline pointed out that the general plans, which include a modern sewage treatment plant capable of reducing sewage to an effluent so pure as to be drinkable, have had preliminary study by the Ohio Department of Health.

Plants of this type, Kline said, cost approximately $25,000 to $50,000.

• • •

ADEQUATE provision for the most acceptable type of sewage treatment plant has been included in the overall estimate, he told the small group of citizens attending the meeting.

Kline explained that the plant will include multiple filter beds and a garbage disposal arrangement which provides much more complete treatment than most existing school treatment systems.

The final purified effluent will go into a running stream at a spot to be selected by the Ohio Department of Health. The effluent would be odorless except during the hottest period of the summer when school will not be in session anyway, Kline said.

The architect said the sewage treatment plans will have the unqualified approval of the Water Pollution Control Board before it can be built and that there will be frequent inspections during the progress of the construction as well as a final inspection.

The final effluent will be purer than the stream into which it flows, Kline assured the board.

THE NEW high school itself is to cost $1,275,000. The bond issue figure also includes $12,500 for acquisition of the necessary real estate, $275,000 for furniture and furnishings for the new school and an additional $90,000 for the improvement of existing non - fireproof buildings.

Only business transacted by the board was routine in nature, including renewal of a contract with Howard Mauk for cleaning septic tanks at most of the existing district schools at a cost of $550.

The board approved current bills and payrolls and informally discussed school transportation matters.

There was also brief discussion of previously approved minor amendments to a school district policy statement setting forth the duties of school principals.

Three Adjoining Tracts Sold at Sheriff's Sale

The Fayette County Agricultural Society, after eight years of litigation, acquired title to the Fairground property at sheriff's sale Wednesday afternoon.

The price paid for the 39.774-acre tract, which includes the Fair buildings was $44,600. Ray Brandenburg, president of the Agricultural Society, represented that group at the sale.

Fayette County Commissioners already had a 20 year option on the Fairground proper. The lease will not expire until 1970.

The auction, conducted by Sheriff Orland Hays, was the culmination of two partition suits, and three other tracts adjoining the Fairground proper also were "knocked down" to the highest bidders.

The four tracts, appraised at a total value of $85,514.40, brought $75,900 under the hammer of Auctioneer W. O. Bumgarner. The Fairground acreage itself was appraised at $66,450.40.

• • •

A TRACT of less than one acre on Fairview Ave., between the Anderson Drive-In Restaurant and the Fairground main entrance gate, brought the most spirited bidding from the crowd of approximately 50 which attended the sale. Appraised at $2,328 it was finally sold to Anderson Bros., operators of the restaurant, for $6,500. The buyers indicated that they purchased it for "possible expansion."

The next high bidder on the tract was Herbert Nushawg who bought

Butcher Files Insanity Plea

Wisconsin Farmer's Lawyer Asks for Test

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP) — Edward Gein, admitted butcher-slayer of a middle-age business woman, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity when he was arraigned today on a charge of first degree murder. He was ordered held without bond for trial.

His attorney said he would seek an immediate mental test for his client and he added "I don't see how there could be any other conclusion but that the man is insane."

William Belter, counsel for the 51-year-old bachelor farmer who has told authorities he killed two women and robbed graves to obtain nine other human skulls found in his home, said a psychiatric examination could be ordered summarily by a judge.

Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen of Waushara County said he would not oppose a motion for a sanity examination.

Under questioning at the state crime laboratory at Madison Wednesday, Gein admitted, according to Director Charles Wilson, that he killed and butchered Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58-year-old Plainfield hardware store operator, and also killed Mrs. Mary Hogan, 54, tavern operator at Bancroft, Wis., who had been missing since Dec. 8, 1954.

• • •

FIRST DEGREE murder is a premeditated killing. Conviction carries a mandatory life term.

"We want to get this thing over with as quickly as possible," said Kileen. "Our only interest is seeing that justice is done in the killing of Mrs. Worden."

In a dispatch from Madison, Wis., the Tribune said it learned that Gein, "a shy, sly, mild-mannered bachelor, had wanted to be a woman and that he said this compulsion prompted him to kill women and steal other bodies from graves to get parts to wear upon his own body."

The story said "this most appalling denouncement of the entire case" came after Charles Wilson, head of the state crime laboratory, reported that Gein had ad-

In Step with Dulles?

ADLAI STEVENSON is walking beside Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Washington's National airport, but Capitol sources are wondering if he will "stay in step" with the administration's program for strengthening NATO. Stevenson, who has agreed to serve as a consultant to the President and Dulles has conferred with a number of leading Democrats.

Red Arms Stand Irking Neutrals

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Russia's brushoff of Western efforts to break the disarmament deadlock may have demonstrated her new ICBM-Sputnik "position of strength." But it also put a severe strain on her friendship with many neutral nations.

Delegates infer this from the lineup in the smashing 60-9 U.N. Assembly endorsement of the West's plan to increase the 12-nation Disarmament Commission to 25 members.

Only the Soviet bloc voted against the proposal despite Russia's warning she would boycott the talks unless half the nations at the conference were Communist or neutral.

The West had been confident of victory on the vote. But few had expected Syria and Egypt, who receive economic and military aid from Moscow, to vote for the plan. Nor had they anticipated support from such Asian neutrals as Ceylon and Indonesia, who usually show a marked preference for Soviet ideas.

• • •

A NUMBER of usually pro-Soviet delegations were deeply disturbed by Russia's ever-increasing demands during the East-West negotiations last week on enlarging the commission.

Yugoslav Communists, who played a key role in trying to bring the two sides together, became so annoyed by the Soviet tactics that they divorced themselves from the sponsor's list.

India, who originated the move to enlarge the commission, did not appreciate Russia's sudden rejection of the plan after the Indians had persuaded the West to go along with the compromise.

The Soviets also angered Austria and Finland, who chided them in the Assembly for placing their names on the Red list of commission candidates without telling them in advance.

Most delegates could not accept Russia's contention that half the commission should be made up of Communists and neutrals. The Reds only total one ninth of the Assembly, and even a Communist-neutral census adds up to less than half the 82 nations.

After the Soviets had turned down three Western compromise offers, it became apparent to many that Russia had no intention of taking part in U. N. arms negotiations at this stage and would find some pretext for opposing any compromise.

Many diplomats believe the Kremlin leaders, bolstered by their spectacular success with space missiles, consider U. N. disarmament negotiations a waste of time and want the talks limited to the United States and Russia.

Plane Belly-Lands In Warren County

DAYTON (AP)—Three persons escaped without serious injury today when their twin-engined airplane made a forced belly landing in a field south of here.

The plane which belonged to the Wright-Patterson Air Development Center was piloted by Maj. Thomas R. Risher of Dayton. Copilot was Capt. Orville O. Scroggin of Fairborn and Isaac Harris of Columbus was a passenger. Harris, a project engineer at the Wright Air Development Center, suffered a slight leg injury.

Authorities at Wright-Patterson said the plane was on a routine equipment check when it developed engine trouble and crashed in the field five miles west of Waynesville in Warren County.

Beef Cattle 'Boom' Seen Due in '58

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said today the chances are good that farmers will make at least average profits from feeding of slaughter cattle next year.

In fact, the agency said, there is a possibility that profits may exceed present expectations.

Officials explained at a farm outlook conference attended by state extension workers and educators that a new cattle "boom" is in the making. By this they mean that the demand for beef is strong enough to encourage farmers to produce more beef.

As a consequence, many producers are holding back for breeding purposes cattle which otherwise would go to market for slaughter. They are encouraged to do this by the strong consumer prices and by the declining prices of livestock feed.

But past experience shows, officials said, that there is a danger that producers may overexpand. Then would come a decline in cattle prices with feeding operation causing losses rather than netting profits.

Officials predicted that the low point in prices of cattle fattened this winter for next year's slaughter markets will come later than the normal February. That is because feeding operations got a later start this season than normal.

Woman Blind 18 Years Sees With New Electronic Eye

It was in these words that a woman blind for 18 years described her reaction to a new electronic device, her surgeons said.

The woman, Betty Corstorphine, 35, underwent a series of tests in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Los Angeles, last month using a photoelectric cell connected to wires in her brain.

"I saw flashes, at one time a bright flash like an electric light bulb, and at another time a grayness as though a light had just gone out," she said.

Dr. John C. Button said the test showed that brain cells did not atrophy like unused muscle cells but could be stimulated.

Saying that the test "opens the door to the possibilities of electronic vision," he predicted that with adequate funds medical science could refine the apparatus so that within five years almost all blind people could "see" by means of electrical stimulus of the vision centers.

"Eventually," he said, "I'm sure we'll get real sight."

Button, a 46-year-old neurologist who lives in nearby Maplewood, described the device that may eventually be developed as "something like a radarscope or television set."

Miss Corstorphine, who volunteered for the tests begun last Oct. 28, has been blind since 1939 because of the pressure of an inoperable, benign tumor on her optic nerve.

Button said wires about half the thickness of a human hair were passed through drilled holes into Miss Corstorphine's brain.

They were then pushed about two inches into the back of the brain to the centers of vision.

The wires were attached to a transistor amplifier which, in turn was connected to a small photoelectric cell. The theory was that the photoelectric cell would pick up light and convert it into a mild electric charge, thereby stimulating the brain.

Miss Corstorphine was given the cell and told to point it about a partially darkened room. As the cell was pointed toward lights placed about the room, Miss Corstorphine said she received flashes of light.

In further tests, Button said, she could pick up flashes from lights as dim as a 40-watt bulb.

The device, he said, can work on any blindness except that caused by injury to the center of vision deep in the brain. "And," he added, "there aren't many of them."

Union Thanksgiving Service At First Presbyterian Church

The annual Union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Fayette County Ministerial Assn. will be held this year in the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p. m. next Wednesday.

The Rev. Donis D. Patterson, minister-in-charge of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving message, but four other ministers will participate in the service.

The Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will give the call to worship and the opening prayer. The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, and the Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church, will read the Scripture. The Rev. Harold Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will lead the prayer litany and pronounce the benediction.

The only special music will be a solo by Robert Newmann. Miss Marian Christopher will play the organ accompaniment for the singing of three hymns by the congregation.

The offering will go to the Christian Rural Overseas Program through Church World Service. Each dollar contributed will send 200 pounds of food to the hungry under the "Share Our Surplus" program, utilizing government surplus food stocks.

Most of the churches in the community also will have their own Thanksgiving services Sunday and are having special Thanksgiving programs during weekday evenings.

Californian Says He May Just Stay On His New Island

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — What would you do if you suddenly won a South Pacific island complete with furnished hut, outrigger canoe and a native man Friday?

Well, the Kent Shelbys, who won an island in a national limerick contest sponsored by a movie studio, have this to say:

"We intend to bask in the sun and just fish and swim and read and let the rest of the world go by."

Shelby, 23, an aircraft worker, said he, his wife and 15-month-old daughter plan to fly to the 4½-acre island in the Fiji group about the first of the year.

"If it's as good as it sounds we may never come back," Shelby said.

Solons Cool On Telling U. S. Atom Secrets

Ike May Be Forced To Compromise on Swap-with-Allies Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposition is seen developing in Congress which some think may force compromises in the Eisenhower administration's intention to seek a freer exchange of atomic information with America's allies.

President Eisenhower has said he will ask Congress to lift some of the secrecy provisions of the Atomic Energy Act.

The proposal has drawn a mixed, and none too favorable, reaction from Senate-House Atomic Energy committeemen. Chairman Durham (D-NC), among others, has questioned the adequacy of security systems in nations which would get such secret information.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), a member of the committee, said today he believes European readiness to use American nuclear weapons in wartime can be achieved without amending the act.

"I generally favor increased cooperation with our allies in this field and if an amendment to the law is regarded as necessary by the administration, I would give it serious and sympathetic consideration," Gore said.

* * *

"BUT AS OF now I know of no such need and none has been indicated to the Senate-House committee."

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles appear determined to seek some lowering of the secrecy ban. But some members of Congress obviously are beginning to see a possible way around this in Dulles' proposal to establish stockpiles of American atomic weapons in Europe.

These weapons would be earmarked for Allied use in the event of war, but would remain under technical control of the United States and thus would not violate existing law governing disposal of such weapons.

Gore said that with such stockpiles established the United States could go ahead with all of the necessary preparations for Allied use of the weapons without changing the law.

"There is nothing in the Atomic Energy Act to prevent our allies from being informed of the size of these weapons, their destructive power and of the mechanics for their use," Gore said.

The act prevents the divulging of information about the design and fabrication of the nuclear component of the weapon. It is this information that Eisenhower and Dulles apparently want to pool with Britain and other allies.

However, members of the Senate-House committee have raised questions about the British security system. They have said that if information is given to Britain, it also must be given to France, Italy and West Germany. Some of them regard this as too wide a field of dispersal of secrets.

New Minister At AME Church

The Rev. Elijah Reed, the new pastor of Rogers A. M. E. Chapel, N. Main St., will deliver the message at the church's special service at 9:30 a. m. Thanksgiving Day.

There also will be special music by the choir under the direction of Albert Stewart. The accompanist is Miss Naomi Terry.

The Rev. Mr. Reed came to the church here from Akron. He and Mrs. Reed and their young son are now settled in the church parsonage, 923 E. Temple St.

He succeeds the Rev. Roli Canado, who left here about a month ago, to accept the pulpit of the A. M. E. Church in Hamilton. The Rev. Mr. Canado had held the pastorate of the church here for about a year.

'Wolves' Said Reason For House Value Cut

SHEFFIELD, England (AP) — A court has granted shapely, 31-year-old Mrs. Mildred Barker a cut in her real estate tax because of wolves.

Mrs. Barker said the wolves were the male employes of an engineering works a few yards from her home. She testified she drew wolf whistles "when I hang out the laundry, when I wash the steps and when I sunbathe in summer."

She argued, and the tax court agreed Wednesday, that this lessened the value of the house.

Deaths, Funerals

A. O. CLARK — Services for A. O. Clark, who died Sunday night at his home, 315 Forest St., were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Gerstner Funeral Home by the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church.

Nearly a score of funeral directors, Mr. Clark's customers during his many years as a casket salesman, came to the funeral from cities and towns in Ohio and Indiana.

Pallbearers for the burial in Washington C. H. Cemetery were Harry Anthony, Frank Daugherty, Donald Schwaigert, Clyde Andrews, Herbert Rothrock and Dane Feagans.

SHARON KAY EVANS — Services were held for Sharon Kay Evans, three-week old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus W. Evans, at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Parrett Funeral Home. The infant died at the home of her parents on Rowe - Ging Rd. at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. She had been in poor health since birth.

The Rev. Arthur George was in charge of services and Mrs. George sang the hymn "Jewels."

Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery at Jeffersonville.

A. T. CLINE—Services for A. T. Cline, who died in Memorial Hospital Monday, were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina. The Rev. C. A. Arthur, Leesburg, retired Methodist minister, officiated.

Mrs. Walter Stackhouse played the piano accompaniment as Robert Duke sang "God's Tomorrow" and "It Is No Secret."

Pallbearers were James Hawk, Donald Stephens, Lowell Woods, Richard Curl, John Callender and Kenneth Cline.

Police Report Asked after Raid on Thugs

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York state police who broke up and investigated a "gangland conference" a week ago were under investigation themselves today.

Gov. Averell Harriman disclosed Wednesday night that he had ordered a number of inquiries by state agencies into the mobster meeting. One of them directs the state police superintendent to submit "a complete report on the conduct of the raid."

A spokesman said the governor wanted the report since criticism had been raised about the police action.

Troopers flushed out 60 men last Thursday from Joseph Barbara's remote country mansion in the hamlet of Appalachin in south central New York. Many underworld luminaries were netted.

The troopers made no arrests. They said there was no charge on which to hold any of the guests. The visitors insisted they were visiting a sick friend—Barbara.

There has been criticism of the state police in some quarters over the prompt release of the participants in the meeting. There also have been reports that top state police officials were angry over the fact that they were not consulted during the roundup.

The state police superintendent, Francis S. McGarvey, endorsed the manner in which his subordinates had acted. They did "the best they could under the circumstances," he said.

Tuesday Meeting Planned by BPW

The program for next Tuesday night's dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club here will have a Thanksgiving theme.

The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, will be the principal speaker. His subject will be "Gratitude in Time of Plenty."

Grover Baber, vocal music director of the city schools and director of the First Presbyterian Church choir, will sing several solos.

The meeting was arranged by the Bulletin Committee, of which Mrs. Wilbur Mossbarger and Mrs. James A. Miller, are co - chairmen, and the other members Mrs. E. C. Urton, Mrs. M. Z. Klever, Mrs. Wilbur Morgan, Mrs. Fern Chaffin, Mrs. Herbert Plymire, Mrs. Delbert Looker, Mrs. Ruth Chaney, Mrs. Charles Lawrence and Miss Alta Barr.

Elks Meeting Follows Dinner

Plans Outlined For Three Events

Plans for the annual memorial service were outlined at Wednesday night's meeting of the Elks Lodge here, which followed the annual turkey dinner for members.

The meeting, one of the largest in a long time, was held in the second floor lodge room, with Exalted Ruler William Stoughton presiding.

The turkey dinner—which included all of the customary trimmings—was served to around 150 Elks on the first floor, where all available space had been used by the small tables set up there for the occasion.

The dinner committee of Eddie Evans, Charles Funk and C. E. Eckle roasted the turkeys, carved them and served the dinner to their brother Elks cafeteria style, starting about 6:30 p. m., with the help of several volunteers.

* * *

AFTER THE dinner, the Elks went to the second floor lodge room for the regular meeting.

The memorial service, it was decided, will be held at 2 p. m. Dec. 1 at the lodge, 222 N. Main St. It will be open to the public.

Some of the details also were worked out for the initiation of a class of around a dozen new members on Dec. 4.

Charles James was named chairman of the committee to arrange for the dance that will be held for Elks and their guests in the lodge hall on Dec. 7.

After some discussion, approval was given for participation again this year in the youth leadership contest. Details will be worked out later.

Stoughton announced that the winter conference of this southwest district of the lodge will be held Saturday and Sunday at Lebanon and urged members of the lodge here to attend at least some of the sessions.

Fairground Purchase

This latter tract, 50 feet wide by 200 feet deep and appraised at $2,000, brought $3,300.

The fourth parcel sold was a strip 1,400 feet long and 200 feet deep, along the CCC Highway immediately north of the Fairground proper. It was sold to Harry D. Crone et al., heirs of Mrs. Estelle Scott, for $21,500. It was appraised at $14,736.

The Agricultural Society also was a bidder.

* * *

LITIGATION over the Fairground property has included a long series of petitions, cross - petitions and injunction actions. The Second District Court of Appeals has heard facets of the legal proceedings on at least three occasions.

Sale of the present Fairground area was the culmination of a suit to quiet title filed by Earl Leroy Scott and Esther Scott Crone against Herbert Wilson. The latter had claimed a one - third interest in the property, saying that he had purchased it from Clarence Wohlheter in 1933.

Judge Charles Kirk of Clinton County ruled that Wilson had no interest in the property but this decision was reversed by the Appellate Court on Feb. 20 of this year. The Appellate Court ordered partition of the property which included all of the acreage except that purchased by Anderson Bros.

* * *

THE FIRST appraisal value set for the three tracts was $108,250, but a second appraisal team, instructed to consider the lease with the county commissioners, brought in a finding of $83,514.

Offering of the small parcel west of the restaurant followed a court order of sale in partition in the case of Herbert Wilson vs. Herbert W. Nushawg et al.

Woman Dies Preparing To Visit Mate's Bier

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati woman died Wednesday as she rested before going to a funeral home where her dead husband's body lay.

The husband, Walter D. Byars, died Friday. His widow was Mrs. Florence Byars, 52. Double funeral services will be held Friday.

GI Is Lone Patient in U. S. Hospital

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — For the rest of his life, soldier James Martin will be able to look back on Wednesday, Nov. 20, as the day when he had:

His own 515-bed hospital for the cure of his broken leg.

A staff of 15 persons to serve him,

Ten physicians to treat him alone,

A detachment of military policemen to protect him,

A post exchange to serve only him,

A theater in which he and the hospital staff viewed one of the latest movies, and

But that was Wednesday. Today Martin shipped to Ft. Devens Hospital.

Martin, a resident of West Roxbury, was the last patient at Murphy Army General Hospital. All the other patients had been transferred before him in advance of the hospital's closing on Dec. 31.

Martin broke his leg while on duty in Germany and was transferred to the United States for treatment.

Probers Plan To Subpoena Union Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators said today they will subpoena convention election records of Teamsters locals in the union's Central Conference.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the special Senate committee, said only a few locals in the conference headed by James R. Hoffa have compiled voluntarily with a committee request for the information.

Kennedy told newsmen that over 75 per cent of the delegates on whom information has been received so far were elected in violation of the union's constitution.

The records, which Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) asked by letter last month, deal with local union's selection of delegates to the convention which elected Hoffa president of the Teamsters.

The committee contends many of the delegates were chosen improperly. Similar charges have been made in a Federal District Court suit challenging Hoffa's election, and he has been barred from taking office pending outcome of the suit. Trial now is scheduled for Dec. 2.

Car-Truck Crash Injures Three

One Truck Driver Cited by Sheriff

A 27 - year - old Zanesville man and his parents were injured in a truck - auto collision on Route 22, west, at the one - lane bridge near New Holland about 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Sheriff Orland Hays said Carl Maxwell Jr., was treated at Memorial Hospital for fractured ribs and a foot injury, and then transferred to a Zanesville hospital.

His parents, Carl Maxwell Sr., 61, and Mrs. Maxwell, 55, received emergency treatment at the hospital here. Maxwell was treated for face cuts, chest bruises and an ankle injury. Mrs. Maxwell was treated for a hip injury.

* * *

THE AUTO in which the Maxwells were riding was wrecked in the mishap, which occurred when it was hit by a tractor - trailer rig driven by Frank Villers, 29, of Wheeling, W. Va.

The Maxwell car was pushed forward into another tractor - trailer, which was driven by George McConnell, 36, of Elm Grove, W. Va. Both trucks were owned by the Cassiday Motor Freight Co., Tridelphia, W. Va.

Villers, who will appear in court later on a reckless driving charge filed by Sheriff Hays, said the Maxwell auto slowed down suddenly in front of him. The elder Maxwell, who was driving, said he slowed down as he saw a car start to enter the other side of the bridge.

Damage to Villers' truck was moderate and to McConnell's truck slight.

Business Notes

It's roundup time on the range. Or more or less, anyhow. The Dayton Power and Light Co. is running a modern - style range war, complete with a prize for the winner.

Their concern is to discover the oldest kitchen range in this area—gas, wood, coal or electric. Owners of ranges who think theirs might qualify may enter the contest by trading the range in on a new gas or electric range at any of eight establishments in Washington C. H.

Wake Forest Students Jibe Ban on Dances

About 500 or 600 students, mostly male, participated in the demonstration Wednesday night at the Baptist-supported school.

Hi-fi record players blasted at full volume as the laughing and cheering crowd of students danced and shouted such slogans as "Down with the Baptists."

Student leaders said about 25 per cent of the student body joined in the protest against the Baptist State Convention action in Raleigh. The convenion overwhelmingly vetoed campus dancing and apparently ended a lengthy controversy on the topic. School trustees previously had voted to allow dancing.

The students, most of whom wore dark glasses or obscured their faces with handkerchiefs, climaxed the hour long demonstration by burning an effigy labeled "Dr. J. C. Canipe." Canipe retired as president of the Baptist State Convention after speaking against lifting the ban imposed by the convention in 1937.

College policemen took two students, unidentified, in custody for lighting firecrackers.

The convention's action followed a request by trustees of Wake Forest and Meredith College for Women at Raleigh that they allowed to regulate all forms of recreation on their campuses.

Gein was at the laboratory for a total of 10½ hours but underwent only short periods of lie detector tests. The rest of the time was spent in interrogations.

Mrs. Worden's mutilated body was discovered on Gein's farm near Plainfield Saturday night. Authorities searching the littered farmhouse found a collection of human skulls which are being scrutinized by the laboratory. Gein declared he obtained the skulls in a series of grave robberies from 1944 to 1952.

Solons Cool On Telling U. S. Atom Secrets

Ike May Be Forced To Compromise on Swap-with-Allies Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposition is seen developing in Congress which some think may force compromises in the Eisenhower administration's intention to seek a freer exchange of atomic information with America's allies.

President Eisenhower has said he will ask Congress to lift some of the secrecy provisions of the Atomic Energy Act.

The proposal has drawn a mixed, and none too favorable, reaction from Senate-House Atomic Energy committeemen. Chairman Durham (D-NC), among others, has questioned the adequacy of security systems in nations which would get such secret information.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), a member of the committee, said today he believes European readiness to use American nuclear weapons in wartime can be achieved without amending the act.

"I generally favor increased cooperation with our allies in this field and if an amendment to the law is regarded as necessary by the administration, I would give it serious and sympathetic consideration," Gore said.

* * *

"BUT AS OF now I know of no such need and none has been indicated to the Senate-House committee."

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles appear determined to seek some lowering of the secrecy ban. But some members of Congress obviously are beginning to see a possible way around this in Dulles' proposal to establish stockpiles of American atomic weapons in Europe.

These weapons would be earmarked for Allied use in the event of war, but would remain under technical control of the United States and thus would not violate existing law governing disposal of such weapons.

Gore said that with such stockpiles established the United States could go ahead with all of the necessary preparations for Allied use of the weapons without changing the law.

"There is nothing in the Atomic Energy Act to prevent our allies from being informed of the size of these weapons, their destructive power and of the mechanics for their use," Gore said.

The act prevents the divulging of information about the design and fabrication of the nuclear component of the weapon. It is this information that Eisenhower and Dulles apparently want to pool with Britain and other allies.

However, members of the Senate-House committee have raised questions about the British security system. They have said that if information is given to Britain, it also must be given to France, Italy and West Germany. Some of them regard this as too wide a field of dispersal of secrets.

New Minister At AME Church

The Rev. Elijah Reed, the new pastor of Rogers A. M. E. Chapel, N. Main St., will deliver the message at the church's special service at 9:30 a. m. Thanksgiving Day.

There also will be special music by the choir under the direction of Albert Stewart. The accompanist is Miss Naomi Terry.

The Rev. Mr. Reed came to the church here from Akron. He and Mrs. Reed and their young son are now settled in the church parsonage, 923 E. Temple St.

He succeeds the Rev. Roli Canado, who left here about a month ago, to accept the pulpit of the A. M. E. Church in Hamilton. The Rev. Mr. Canado had held the pastorate of the church here for about a year.

'Wolves' Said Reason For House Value Cut

SHEFFIELD, England (AP) — A court has granted shapely, 31-year-old Mrs. Mildred Barker a cut in her real estate tax because of wolves.

Mrs. Barker said the wolves were the male employes of an engineering works a few yards from her home. She testified she drew wolf whistles "when I hang out the laundry, when I wash the steps and when I sunbathe in summer."

She argued, and the tax court agreed Wednesday, that this lessened the value of the house.

Deaths, Funerals

A. O. CLARK — Services for A. O. Clark, who died Sunday night at his home, 315 Forest St., were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Gerstner Funeral Home by the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church.

Nearly a score of funeral directors, Mr. Clark's customers during his many years as a casket salesman, came to the funeral from cities and towns in Ohio and Indiana.

Pallbearers for the burial in Washington C. H. Cemetery were Harry Anthony, Frank Daugherty, Donald Schwaigert, Clyde Andrews, Herbert Rothrock and Dane Feagans.

SHARON KAY EVANS — Services were held for Sharon Kay Evans, three-week old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus W. Evans, at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Parrett Funeral Home. The infant died at the home of her parents on Rowe - Ging Rd. at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. She had been in poor health since birth.

The Rev. Arthur George was in charge of services and Mrs. George sang the hymn "Jewels."

Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery at Jeffersonville.

A. T. CLINE—Services for A. T. Cline, who died in Memorial Hospital Monday, were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina. The Rev. C. A. Arthur, Leesburg, retired Methodist minister, officiated.

Mrs. Walter Stackhouse played the piano accompaniment as Robert Duke sang "God's Tomorrow" and "It Is No Secret."

Pallbearers were James Hawk, Donald Stephens, Lowell Woods, Richard Curl, John Callender and Kenneth Cline.

Police Report Asked after Raid on Thugs

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York state police who broke up and investigated a "gangland conference" a week ago were under investigation themselves today.

Gov. Averell Harriman disclosed Wednesday night that he had ordered a number of inquiries by state agencies into the mobster meeting. One of them directs the state police superintendent to submit "a complete report on the conduct of the raid."

A spokesman said the governor wanted the report since criticism had been raised about the police action.

Troopers flushed out 60 men last Thursday from Joseph Barbara's remote country mansion in the hamlet of Appalachin in south central New York. Many underworld luminaries were netted.

The troopers made no arrests. They said there was no charge on which to hold any of the guests. The visitors insisted they were visiting a sick friend—Barbara.

There has been criticism of the state police in some quarters over the prompt release of the participants in the meeting. There also have been reports that top state police officials were angry over the fact that they were not consulted during the roundup.

The state police superintendent, Francis S. McGarvey, endorsed the manner in which his subordinates had acted. They did "the best they could under the circumstances," he said.

Tuesday Meeting Planned by BPW

The program for next Tuesday night's dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club here will have a Thanksgiving theme.

The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, will be the principal speaker. His subject will be "Gratitude in Time of Plenty."

Grover Baber, vocal music director of the city schools and director of the First Presbyterian Church choir, will sing several solos.

The meeting was arranged by the Bulletin Committee, of which Mrs. Wilbur Mossbarger and Mrs. James A. Miller, are co - chairmen, and the other members Mrs. E. C. Urton, Mrs. M. Z. Klever, Mrs. Wilbur Morgan, Mrs. Fern Chaffin, Mrs. Herbert Plymire, Mrs. Delbert Looker, Mrs. Ruth Chaney, Mrs. Charles Lawrence and Miss Alta Barr.

Elks Meeting Follows Dinner

Plans Outlined For Three Events

Plans for the annual memorial service were outlined at Wednesday night's meeting of the Elks Lodge here, which followed the annual turkey dinner for members.

The meeting, one of the largest in a long time, was held in the second floor lodge room, with Exalted Ruler William Stoughton presiding.

The turkey dinner—which included all of the customary trimmings—was served to around 150 Elks on the first floor, where all available space had been used by the small tables set up there for the occasion.

The dinner committee of Eddie Evans, Charles Funk and C. E. Eckle roasted the turkeys, carved them and served the dinner to their brother Elks cafeteria style, starting about 6:30 p. m., with the help of several volunteers.

* * *

AFTER THE dinner, the Elks went to the second floor lodge room for the regular meeting.

The memorial service, it was decided, will be held at 2 p. m. Dec. 1 at the lodge, 222 N. Main St. It will be open to the public.

Some of the details also were worked out for the initiation of a class of around a dozen new members on Dec. 4.

Charles James was named chairman of the committee to arrange for the dance that will be held for Elks and their guests in the lodge hall on Dec. 7.

After some discussion, approval was given for participation again this year in the youth leadership contest. Details will be worked out later.

Stoughton announced that the winter conference of this southwest district of the lodge will be held Saturday and Sunday at Lebanon and urged members of the lodge here to attend at least some of the sessions.

Fairground Purchase

This latter tract, 50 feet wide by 200 feet deep and appraised at $2,000, brought $3,300.

The fourth parcel sold was a strip 1,400 feet long and 200 feet deep, along the CCC Highway immediately north of the Fairground proper. It was sold to Harry D. Crone et al., heirs of Mrs. Estelle Scott, for $21,500. It was appraised at $14,736.

The Agricultural Society also was a bidder.

* * *

LITIGATION over the Fairground property has included a long series of petitions, cross - petitions and injunction actions. The Second District Court of Appeals has heard facets of the legal proceedings on at least three occasions.

Sale of the present Fairground area was the culmination of a suit to quiet title filed by Earl Leroy Scott and Esther Scott Crone against Herbert Wilson. The latter had claimed a one - third interest in the property, saying that he had purchased it from Clarence Wohlheter in 1933.

Judge Charles Kirk of Clinton County ruled that Wilson had no interest in the property but this decision was reversed by the Appellate Court on Feb. 20 of this year. The Appellate Court ordered partition of the property which included all of the acreage except that purchased by Anderson Bros.

* * *

THE FIRST appraisal value set for the three tracts was $108,250, but a second appraisal team, instructed to consider the lease with the county commissioners, brought in a finding of $83,514.

Offering of the small parcel west of the restaurant followed a court order of sale in partition in the case of Herbert Wilson vs. Herbert W. Nushawg et al.

Woman Dies Preparing To Visit Mate's Bier

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati woman died Wednesday as she rested before going to a funeral home where her dead husband's body lay.

The husband, Walter D. Byars, died Friday. His widow was Mrs. Florence Byars, 52. Double funeral services will be held Friday.

GI Is Lone Patient in U. S. Hospital

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — For the rest of his life, soldier James Martin will be able to look back on Wednesday, Nov. 20, as the day when he had:

His own 515-bed hospital for the cure of his broken leg.

A staff of 15 persons to serve him,

Ten physicians to treat him alone,

A detachment of military policemen to protect him,

A post exchange to serve only him,

But that was Wednesday. Today Martin shipped to Ft. Devens Hospital.

Martin, a resident of West Roxbury, was the last patient at Murphy Army General Hospital. All the other patients had been transferred before him in advance of the hospital's closing on Dec. 31.

Martin broke his leg while on duty in Germany and was transferred to the United States for treatment.

Probers Plan To Subpoena Union Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators said today they will subpoena convention election records of Teamsters locals in the union's Central Conference.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the special Senate committee, said only a few locals in the conference headed by James R. Hoffa have compiled voluntarily with a committee request for the information.

Kennedy told newsmen that over 75 per cent of the delegates on whom information has been received so far were elected in violation of the union's constitution.

The records, which Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) asked by letter last month, deal with local union's selection of delegates to the convention which elected Hoffa president of the Teamsters.

The committee contends many of the delegates were chosen improperly. Similar charges have been made in a Federal District Court suit challenging Hoffa's election, and he has been barred from taking office pending outcome of the suit. Trial now is scheduled for Dec. 2.

Car-Truck Crash Injures Three

One Truck Driver Cited by Sheriff

A 27 - year - old Zanesville man and his parents were injured in a truck - auto collision on Route 22, west, at the one - lane bridge near New Holland about 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Sheriff Orland Hays said Carl Maxwell Jr., was treated at Memorial Hospital for fractured ribs and a foot injury, and then transferred to a Zanesville hospital.

His parents, Carl Maxwell Sr., 61, and Mrs. Maxwell, 55, received emergency treatment at the hospital here. Maxwell was treated for face cuts, chest bruises and an ankle injury. Mrs. Maxwell was treated for a hip injury.

* * *

THE AUTO in which the Maxwells were riding was wrecked in the mishap, which occurred when it was hit by a tractor - trailer rig driven by Frank Villers, 29, of Wheeling, W. Va.

The Maxwell car was pushed forward into another tractor - trailer, which was driven by George McConnell, 36, of Elm Grove, W. Va. Both trucks were owned by the Cassiday Motor Freight Co., Tridelphia, W. Va.

Villers, who will appear in court later on a reckless driving charge filed by Sheriff Hays, said the Maxwell auto slowed down suddenly in front of him. The elder Maxwell, who was driving, said he slowed down as he saw a car start to enter the other side of the bridge.

Damage to Villers' truck was moderate and to McConnell's truck slight.

Business Notes

It's roundup time on the range. Or more or less, anyhow. The Dayton Power and Light Co. is running a modern - style range war, complete with a prize for the winner.

Their concern is to discover the oldest kitchen range in this area—gas, wood, coal or electric. Owners of ranges who think theirs might qualify may enter the contest by trading the range in on a new gas or electric range at any of eight establishments in Washington C. H.

Chillicothe Supermart Robbed by Lone Thug

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—A tall, black-haired man used a cereal box to camouflage a pistol late Wednesday and robbed an Albers supermarket here of about $600.

Wake Forest Students Jibe Ban on Dances

About 500 or 600 students, mostly male, participated in the demonstration Wednesday night at the Baptist-supported school.

Hi-fi record players blasted at full volume as the laughing and cheering crowd of students danced and shouted such slogans as "Down with the Baptists."

Student leaders said about 25 per cent of the student body joined in the protest against the Baptist State Convention action in Raleigh. The convenion overwhelmingly vetoed campus dancing and apparently ended a lengthy controversy on the topic. School trustees previously had voted to allow dancing.

The students, most of whom wore dark glasses or obscured their faces with handkerchiefs, climaxed the hour long demonstration by burning an effigy labeled "Dr. J. C. Canipe." Canipe retired as president of the Baptist State Convention after speaking against lifting the ban imposed by the convention in 1937.

College policemen took two students, unidentified, in custody for lighting firecrackers.

The convention's action followed a request by trustees of Wake Forest and Meredith College for Women at Raleigh that they allowed to regulate all forms of recreation on their campuses.

Butcher Files

mitted the killing of Mrs. Mary Hogan, 54, at his farm near Plainfield, in central Wisconsin. Mrs. Hogan, a tavern operator to Bancroft, Wis., had been missing since Dec. 8, 1954. Earlier Gein had admitted killing and butchering Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58-year-old hardware store owner of Plainfield last Saturday.

* * *

GEIN WAS returned to the Waushara County jail at Wautoma Wednesday from Madison to await arraignment on a charge of first-degree murder.

Gein was at the laboratory for a total of 10½ hours but underwent only short periods of lie detector tests. The rest of the time was spent in interrogations.

Mrs. Worden's mutilated body was discovered on Gein's farm near Plainfield Saturday night. Authorities searching the littered farmhouse found a collection of human skulls which are being scrutinized by the laboratory. Gein declared he obtained the skulls in a series of grave robberies from 1944 to 1952.

Hungary's Present "Peace and Quiet"

As compared to "iron curtain" countries and probably some other nations under dictator forms of government, our own country is a veritable "chatterbox" nation when it comes to criticism of officials of government and many other things. Yet, it has paid off by being such.

Few, if any real Americans, actually would want the freedom principles and the right to criticize, taken away from them. We have continued to grow and prosper under these rights.

Let's take a look at some other countries, Hungary for example. "There is peace in Budapest today— peace and quiet— but it is the peace of a graveyard and the quiet of a detention ward." Thus writes Harrison E. Salisbury, a Pulitzer Prize winner and a correspondent of wide experience behind the Iron Curtain.

Mr. Salisbury recalls in poignant detail the Hungarian revolt of October of last year— an event that stirred the whole free world, and, afterwards, made the whole free world ashamed that it could do or did so little.

For a while— a few days— it seemed as if this incredible battle against tyranny, led by a comparative handful of ill-armed Freedom Fighters, might actually succeed. The dreaded secret police were defeated, and many of them killed; the regime was temporarily overthrown and a new one installed. But this lasted a pitifully short time. The Freedom Fighters waited and asked for help that never came.

Then a great mechanized Soviet army rolled in and the revolt was drowned in its own blood. The puppet regime was restored to power, backed with bayonets, tanks and all the apparatus of terror. Some 30,000 men and women died in a vain fight for liberty. Their rolls have since been swelled by brutal reprisals.

What is life like in captive Hungary now, a little more than a year later? That question is vividly answered by Allan A. Michie, reporting in an issue of Newsweek.

The spirit of active resistance of the great mass of the Hungarian people has not been quenched. But the means of resistance have been— eight Soviet divisions see to that. The result, Mr. Michie quotes a western diplomat as saying, is that "The whole nation is in a state of sullen, passive resistance."

Workers are doing the very minimum, and they deliberately waste raw materials and produce imperfect goods. The government of Premier Janos Kadar has offered pacifications in the form of somewhat higher living standards; but, Mr. Michie says, the country undergoes dangerous economic pressures. Revolt losses were extremely heavy— and among them were the 195,000 refugees who escaped the country. These included a high proportion of skilled workers.

Premier Kadar— once, ironically, considered a moderate— made all manner of promises during and immediately after the revolt, free, democratic elections among them. A current Budapest saying, which has a hard base in truth, declares that Kadar has "broken every promise and kept every threat."

Intellectuals and other leaders are favorite targets of persecution and suppression. An idea of what is happening in this regard can be gained from something said by the powerful Soviet named Minister of State for Hungary, Gyorgy Marosan, "All my life I have hated the gentry, hated the scholars, because every one of them is a rotten, no-good counterrevolutionary, and I would like nothing better than to hang them from the nearest tree on a rope woven from their own intestines."

What of the future of this and other Soviet satellites? Here is Mr. Michie's somber view: "The only ray of hope now for Hungary, and for all the captive nations of the Soviet empire, is that Russia's marshals may one day recognize that in an age of ballistic warfare a dis-affected territory is more of a liability than an asset. It is a faint hope at best. . . ."

Some Drug Allergies Hard To Determine

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Frequently in the past I've stressed the value of skin tests in determining certain allergies.

In the case of airborne pollens, molds and even in some instances of food allergy, these skin tests work very well.

Drug allergy, however, is some thing else again. Skin tests have relatively little value in diagnosing allergy to non-protein drugs.

Oh, in certain cases, the tests will produce reactions all right. And if a positive reaction does appear. it indicates the person is highly sensitive to that particular drug.

But in many, many cases no reaction appears, and this does not necessarily mean that this particular person is not allergic to that specific drug. In short, a negative reaction does not mean there is no allergy.

For contact dermatitis caused by certain medications, the patch tests have some value. In this type of skin test, the suspected skin and permitted to remain there for a minimum of 24 hours.

Yet, even in these cases, a negative reaction does not always mean you are not allergic to the drug. Besides, in some cases, the mere testing of the drug may bring on an attack.

How, then, can you and your physician determine whether you are allergic to specific drugs?

Well, if either you or your doctor have good reason to suspect you are allergic to a certain drug, generally that's enough to indicate it should be avoided.

About the only other way of making sure. as far as I can see, is to try small does cautiously. It's sort of a trial-and-error method, but in many cases this is the only way a drug can be tested for allergic reactions.

At any rate, the final decision as to whether you should have a specific drug should be left to your doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

H. C.: I have been nearsighted all my life, and have been wearing glasses since five. I am now 24 and, although the glasses help me see better, they have not improved my condition.

Answer: Nearsightedness cannot be cured. However, properly fitted glasses help to keep the condition from becoming worse.

England's Don Campbell hopes to break his world speedboat record of 225 miles per hour—news item. In these days of 18,000-mph sputniks that kind of traveling almost seems like standing still.

Astronomers say temperatures on the moon vary from 243 above to 243 degrees below zero. How come, then, people are so anxious to visit it?

The first Russian earth satellite has already passed through several meteor swarms, say observers. Just rockin' and rollin' along?

Japanese star gazers report the nose cone of Sputnik II has broken off and is speeding some 435 miles ahead of the satellite itself. There's one race, says Betcha Dollar Denis, that almost certainly won't wind up in a photo finish.

An English widow won $574,658 on a two-cent football pool ticket. Now, that's what we call a real investment—one that pays off 2,873,299,000 per cent.

F.E.F. says that news story about the lucky widow makes for a mighty INTERESTing subject!

If the family's feline pet is a bit grouchy these days it may be because there's been so much talk about the doggie in the sputnik that folk have forgotten all about it being National Cat Week.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Big Three tanglefooted their way into an explosion in the Middle East in 1956. They're in the flypaper again. This time it's next door in Tunisia.

In 1956 both Israelis and Arabs in the flaming Middle East wanted arms. The United States. Britain and France — wanting to stay friendly with both sides and keep Russia away — agreed to supply arms to both sides.

They'd do this. the Big Three said, but only if a receiving nation promised not to use the arms against a neighbor. And they warned they'd jump in and stop any attack by one Middle East nation on another.

The agreement wound up in disaster. This country, while supplying arms to other Arabs, gave none to Egypt. Egypt got them from Russia. This opened the door wide to Russian influence.

Meanwhile, this country let Britain, France and Canada do the supplying for Israel. With Russia playing his big brother, Egyptian President Nasser got obnoxious. In the fall of 1956 Israel attacked Egypt.

So did Britain and France, thus making a farce of the 1950 agreement.

Threats by Russia and demands by this country forced Israel, Britain and France to withdraw.

The scene shifts now west along the Mediterranean to Tunisia, which after a 25-year struggle to get free of France, became independent last year. Instead of turning to Russia, Tunisia is pro-West.

Although independent, it remains part of the French Union. It wants and needs French help and business. But right next door in Algeria the nationalist rebels have been fighting several years to shake off French control.

France pumped troops into Algeria. To escape them and return to fight again. Algerians have slipped over the frontier into Tunisia. And so did the French in pursuit of them.

No one can predict what turn this will take for Tunisia, whose armed forces are outnumbered by Algerians and French. Tunisia asked France for arms. France laid down conditions Tunisia refused to accept.

Tunisia, mindful of what Egypt did, let it be known it would turn to the Communists of Europe for arms if France refused them. Egyptian President Nasser, seeing a chance to give the West more trouble, offered Tunisia arms which, of course, had to come from Russia since he has none of his own.

This got action from the United States and Britain, which were also mindful of what happened in Egypt. They promised help to Tunisia and sent in arms. This outraged the Fench.

Steaming at its two big allies, the French sent Foreign Minister Pineau here to talk to Secretary of State Dulles.

They got along all right. and when Pineau left Wednesday night for New York he was optimistic some understanding agreeable to the United States, Britain, France and Tunisia would be reached. I hasn't been yet.

O'Neill Plans Cleveland Trip for Ike's Address

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill will be in Cleveland Tuesday to greet President Eisenhower on his arrival to deliver a televised address.

O'Neill said presidential assistant Sherman Adams has advised him the President will arrive in Cleveland about 4 p.m.

The governor said he plans to devote the entire day to the presidential visit.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was established in 1908 as a permanent investigative arm of the United States Department of Justice.

Teamsters Say $150,000 Needed for Its Legal Fund

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Harold J. Gibbons of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters says the union hopes to raise only about $150,000 for a legal defense fund.

"If we could get $150,000 I would feel very happy," said Gibbons, an international vice president of the union.

"It would be used in case any of us got into any kind of legal troubles so that we would have some kind of financial assistance."

Gibbons said only full-time paid officers of the union would contribute to the fund and those participating would give a $1,000 promissory note to be paid off at the rate of $10 a week.

"A number of us thought about it and kicked the idea around because if we lose a paycheck we are in trouble," Gibbons said.

The fund would be administered by a board of trustees which has not yet been named, Gibbons said.

"I think Mr. Hoffa has raised some money of his own. He has mortgaged his home. Obviously he would be entitled to consideration. I haven't even discussed it with him and it will not be raised in terms of Jimmy Hoffa."

Gibbons said no money has been raised yet and that there will be no widespread solicitation. Requests for contributions will be by personal contacts, he said.

Gibbons denied a Chicago Tribune report that the fund may reach two million dollars.

In Detroit, Hoffa denied any fund was being raised for his benefit and predicted the one reported by Gibbons would total only $75,000 to $100,000.

"It won't be used for my defense in pending trials," Hoffa said. "It will be used for the benefit of business agents."

He said the union expected a wave of litigation involving officials and business agents, especially if it is expelled from the AFL-CIO next month. He didn't elaborate.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN THE REFERENCE library of Doubleday and Co., publishers, there is a copy of a special edition of Edwin Markham's "The Man With the Hoe," with illustrations by Howard Pyle, published in 1900. Harvey Breit, preparing an article on the collection, opened the book and found this inscription written on the flyleaf by the then-boss-man of the firm, F. N. Doubleday, in his own hand: "This edition was made to please the author and get his next book. It did neither."

What in the world have the following gentlemen got in common: Elbridge Gerry, George M. Dallas, William R. King, Hannibal Hamlin, Henry Wilson, William A. Wheeler, Thomas A. Hendricks and Garrett A. Hobart? Well, for one thing, all of them were vice presidents of the United States!

Hornblow Toots Rare Bugle

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood producers, who aren't sure on some days themselves just what they have or haven't accomplished, are a bit at a loss as to how to explain their job.

"A producer is to a movie what an editor is to a magazine," said Arthur Hornblow Jr., a real pro in his field. "He puts it together."

Hornblow, who is 64, balding, dark-eyed and quite vocal, has been an Army lieutenant (Vintage: World War I) and a lawyer. But he has also produced some 40 to 50 pictures.

He has some strong opinions about the role of producers and the present plight and future of Hollywood, which he loves and thinks has a real impact for good in the world.

Let us start with the public's attitude toward producers, which annoys him:

"Too many people have the idea that producers are foreign illiterates—and their objective is vulgarity," he said.

"This is probably our fault. Hollywood can sell pictures, but it can't sell itself. It suffers from the poorest institutional publicity I know of.

"A producer doesn't aim at vulgarity. He tries his damndest to make the best picture he can.

"Actually, there are 142 members of the Screen Producers Guild, and they make 98 per cent of the movies made in this country.

"Of that number more than 100 have been to college, and 127 are American-born.

"Only three never went beyond grammar school, and one of them is, in my opinion, as cultured as any man I ever met.

"All races, religions and political points of view are as evenly divided among producers as in any representative segment of the American community."

What is wrong with the movie business today?

"If anything kills the film industry it won't be the disinterest of the public," said Hornblow. "It will be the green badge of vanity—the exorbitant money demands of talent for purposes of prestige.

"It will be the demands of stars, directors and writers—their insistence on high salaries which the tax laws won't even allow them to keep.

"Everybody is attached to the tail of the kite of the most successful man in town in his field. This attitude threatens Hollywood with economic disaster."

Hornblow's point was that a novel that once could be bought for $30,000 now costs $300,000, a star who once would take $50,000 for a picture now wants a guarantee several times that large, and so do writers and directors. His further point was that, in most cases, as a result of tax laws, these demands had become symbols of prestige rather than actual take-home pay.

"The range of what Hollywood is prepared to pay for anything should be cut in half," he said. "Then the movie industry would be healthy. Talent must take some of the risks, too."

Right or wrong, Hornblow toots the most forthright bugle that has come this way from Hollywood in a long time.

Do You Prefer To Swindle?

By George Sokolsky

The new income tax ruling on expense accounts is an invitation to waste time, money and ingenuity trying to beat the new line on the income tax form which requires an itemization of expenses beyond human endurance.

In fact, the new provision is so expensive that it might pay a small man to make no deductions for expenses and to swindle some other way.

And yet, was it the intention of Congress that the income tax should be used to turn this into a nation of liars, thieves and cheats?

Business cannot be done without business expense. The large corporation can afford to put on another 20 bookkeepers to keep a record of every dollar that goes out; the small businessman and the self-employed citizen have too little margin left to keep records of every cigar each one buys, every martini he buys, every hot pastrami sandwich he buys for a customer, where he bought the aforesaid, the name, address, sex and age of the customer, why on that particular day he gave the customer a cigar instead of a cigarette and whether the customer, if a blonde, only did business during business hours or also during other hours.

When taxes become oppressive, the citizens rise in their anger, and as we are approaching a congressional election, this might be the straw that breaks the camel's back, to use a proverb. The income tax collection is becoming increasingly punitive and the citizen is beginning to wonder whether he works to support his family or for income taxes.

It is like a grocer I know. He is situated in a normally wholesome spot but there was a breakage in the water mains and his cellar was flooded and damaged to the tune of about $30,000.

The problem was not only to get the water out of the pwce but he had to get his damaged goods released.

And as some of it was such articles as Kleenex, napkins and other articles made of paper, the water soaked into the articles, made them very heavy, putting on more poundage. Meanwhile, the health authorities insisted that the cellar dry out before new goods could be stored.

And the city did not come forth with a check to pay for the damages done by its water mains but is waiting for an adjustment or to be sued, whichever takes more time.

Also, unless he can establish to the minutes detail that he really lost his stock, an obvious fact, he will have trouble deducting his losses in his current income tax report.

So what does a small merchant do? He can drop dead so far as the tax collector is concerned and even if he appeals to his representative for assistance, that fellow thinks it over carefully because members of Congress have been accused of assisting constituents for a legal fee paid to a partner or a brother.

All-in-all, the small man is in real trouble about this income tax business and the gimmicks for self-protection are becoming too expensive and only the very rich can take advantage of tax havens and profit havens.

It is not smart that it should be so because the small people are more numerous than the very rich and the small people of this country are getting very tired of the oppressive methods for collecting the income tax, which have come into vogue in recent years—methods which are rigid and uncompromising for small citizen and the little businessman and the self-employed tax havens or profit havens.

It will not be long before Gov. J. Bracken Lee's tax revolt will make a deeper impression upon the people than it has up to now because it is becoming increasingly tire some for more and more citizens to squirm through the year because of high taxes punitively collected while certain kinds of business and certain individuals avoid and evade all taxes by fake and even fraudulent set-ups in Switzerland, Nassau and other places.

Americans have in the past resorted to violent methods when the going got tough and there is no telling what might happen if unemployment increases and the taxes are still collected with a heavy hand. It might not be so nice.

Hungary's Present "Peace and Quiet"

As compared to "iron curtain" countries and probably some other nations under dictator forms of government, our own country is a veritable "chatterbox" nation when it comes to criticism of officials of government and many other things. Yet, it has paid off by being such.

Few, if any real Americans, actually would want the freedom principles and the right to criticize, taken away from them. We have continued to grow and prosper under these rights.

Let's take a look at some other countries, Hungary for example. "There is peace in Budapest today— peace and quiet— but it is the peace of a graveyard and the quiet of a detention ward." Thus writes Harrison E. Salisbury, a Pulitzer Prize winner and a correspondent of wide experience behind the Iron Curtain.

Mr. Salisbury recalls in poignant detail the Hungarian revolt of October of last year— an event that stirred the whole free world, and, afterwards, made the whole free world ashamed that it could do or did so little.

For a while— a few days— it seemed as if this incredible battle against tyranny, led by a comparative handful of ill-armed Freedom Fighters, might actually succeed. The dreaded secret police were defeated, and many of them killed; the regime was temporarily overthrown and a new one installed. But this lasted a pitifully short time. The Freedom Fighters waited and asked for help that never came.

Then a great mechanized Soviet army rolled in and the revolt was drowned in its own blood. The puppet regime was restored to power, backed with bayonets, tanks and all the apparatus of terror. Some 30,000 men and women died in a vain fight for liberty. Their rolls have since been swelled by brutal reprisals.

What is life like in captive Hungary now, a little more than a year later? That question is vividly answered by Allan A. Michie, reporting in an issue of Newsweek.

The spirit of active resistance of the great mass of the Hungarian people has not been quenched. But the means of resistance have been— eight Soviet divisions see to that. The result, Mr. Michie quotes a western diplomat as saying, is that "The whole nation is in a state of sullen, passive resistance."

Workers are doing the very minimum, and they deliberately waste raw materials and produce imperfect goods. The government of Premier Janos Kadar has offered pacifications in the form of somewhat higher living standards; but, Mr. Michie says, the country undergoes dangerous economic pressures. Revolt losses were extremely heavy— and among them were the 195,000 refugees who escaped the country. These included a high proportion of skilled workers.

Premier Kadar— once, ironically, considered a moderate— made all manner of promises during and immediately after the revolt, free, democratic elections among them. A current Budapest saying, which has a hard base in truth, declares that Kadar has "broken every promise and kept every threat."

Intellectuals and other leaders are favorite targets of persecution and suppression. An idea of what is happening in this regard can be gained from something said by the powerful Soviet named Minister of State for Hungary, Gyorgy Marosan, "All my life I have hated the gentry, hated the scholars, because every one of them is a rotten, no-good counterrevolutionary, and I would like nothing better than to hang them from the nearest tree on a rope woven from their own intestines."

What of the future of this and other Soviet satellites? Here is Mr. Michie's somber view: "The only ray of hope now for Hungary, and for all the captive nations of the Soviet empire, is that Russia's marshals may one day recognize that in an age of ballistic warfare a dis-affected territory is more of a liability than an asset. It is a faint hope at best. . . ."

Hornblow Toots Rare Bugle

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood producers, who aren't sure on some days themselves just what they have or haven't accomplished, are a bit at a loss as to how to explain their job.

"A producer is to a movie what an editor is to a magazine," said Arthur Hornblow Jr., a real pro in his field. "He puts it together."

Hornblow, who is 64, balding, dark-eyed and quite vocal, has been an Army lieutenant (Vintage: World War I) and a lawyer. But he has also produced some 40 to 50 pictures.

He has some strong opinions about the role of producers and the present plight and future of Hollywood, which he loves and thinks has a real impact for good in the world.

Let us start with the public's attitude toward producers, which annoys him:

"Too many people have the idea that producers are foreign illiterates—and their objective is vulgarity," he said.

Some Drug Allergies Hard To Determine

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Frequently in the past I've stressed the value of skin tests in determining certain allergies.

In the case of airborne pollens, molds and even in some instances of food allergy, these skin tests work very well.

Drug allergy, however, is some thing else again. Skin tests have relatively little value in diagnosing allergy to non-protein drugs.

Oh, in certain cases, the tests will produce reactions all right. And if a positive reaction does appear, it indicates the person is highly sensitive to that particular drug.

But in many, many cases no reaction appears, and this does not necessarily mean that this particular person is not allergic to that specific drug. In short, a negative reaction does not mean there is no allergy.

For contact dermatitis caused by certain medications, the patch tests have some value. In this type of skin test, the suspected skin and permitted to remain there for a minimum of 24 hours.

Yet, even in these cases, a negative reaction does not always mean you are not allergic to the drug. Besides, in some cases, the mere testing of the drug may bring on an attack.

How, then, can you and your physician determine whether you are allergic to specific drugs?

Well, if either you or your doctor have good reason to suspect you are allergic to a certain drug, generally that's enough to indicate it should be avoided.

About the only other way of making sure. as far as I can see, is to try small does cautiously. It's sort of a trial-and-error method, but in many cases this is the only way a drug can be tested for allergic reactions.

At any rate, the final decision as to whether you should have a specific drug should be left to your doctor.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Big Three tanglefooted their way into an explosion in the Middle East in 1956. They're in the flypaper again. This time it's next door in Tunisia.

In 1956 both Israelis and Arabs in the flaming Middle East wanted arms. The United States, Britain and France — wanting to stay friendly with both sides and keep Russia away — agreed to supply arms to both sides.

They'd do this, the Big Three said, but only if a receiving nation promised not to use the arms against a neighbor. And they warned they'd jump in and stop any attack by one Middle East nation on another.

The agreement wound up in disaster. This country, while supplying arms to other Arabs, gave none to Egypt. Egypt got them from Russia. This opened the door wide to Russian influence.

Meanwhile, this country let Britain, France and Canada do the supplying for Israel. With Russia playing his big brother, Egyptian President Nasser got obnoxious. In the fall of 1956 Israel attacked Egypt.

So did Britain and France, thus making a farce of the 1950 agreement.

Threats by Russia and demands by this country forced Israel, Britain and France to withdraw.

The scene shifts now west along the Mediterranean to Tunisia, which after a 25-year struggle to get free of France, became independent last year. Instead of turning to Russia, Tunisia is pro-West.

Although independent, it remains part of the French Union. It wants and needs French help and business. But right next door in Algeria the nationalist rebels have been fighting several years to shake off French control.

France pumped troops into Algeria. To escape them and return to fight again. Algerians have slipped over the frontier into Tunisia. And so did the French in pursuit of them.

No one can predict what turn this will take for Tunisia, whose armed forces are outnumbered by Algerians and French. Tunisia asked France for arms. France laid down conditions Tunisia refused to accept.

Tunisia, mindful of what Egypt did, let it be known it would turn to the Communists of Europe for arms if France refused them. Egyptian President Nasser, seeing a chance to give the West more trouble, offered Tunisia arms which, of course, had to come from Russia since he has none of his own.

This got action from the United States and Britain, which were also mindful of what happened in Egypt. They promised help to Tunisia and sent in arms. This outraged the Fench.

Steaming at its two big allies, the French sent Foreign Minister Pineau here to talk to Secretary of State Dulles.

They got along all right, and when Pineau left Wednesday night for New York he was optimistic some understanding agreeable to the United States, Britain, France and Tunisia would be reached. I hasn't been yet.

O'Neill Plans Cleveland Trip for Ike's Address

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill will be in Cleveland Tuesday to greet President Eisenhower on his arrival to deliver a televised address.

O'Neill said presidential assistant Sherman Adams has advised him the President will arrive in Cleveland about 4 p.m.

The governor said he plans to devote the entire day to the presidential visit.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was established in 1908 as a permanent investigative arm of the United States Department of Justice.

Teamsters Say $150,000 Needed for Its Legal Fund

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Harold J. Gibbons of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters says the union hopes to raise only about $150,000 for a legal defense fund.

"If we could get $150,000 I would feel very happy," said Gibbons, an international vice president of the union.

"It would be used in case any of us got into any kind of legal troubles so that we would have some kind of financial assistance."

Gibbons said only full-time paid officers of the union would contribute to the fund and those participating would give a $1,000 promissory note to be paid off at the rate of $10 a week.

"A number of us thought about it and kicked the idea around because if we lose a paycheck we are in trouble," Gibbons said.

The fund would be administered by a board of trustees which has not yet been named, Gibbons said.

"I think Mr. Hoffa has raised some money of his own. He has mortgaged his home. Obviously he would be entitled to consideration. I haven't even discussed it with him and it will not be raised in terms of Jimmy Hoffa."

Gibbons said no money has been raised yet and that there will be no widespread solicitation. Requests for contributions will be by personal contacts, he said.

Gibbons denied a Chicago Tribune report that the fund may reach two million dollars.

In Detroit, Hoffa denied any fund was being raised for his benefit and predicted the one reported by Gibbons would total only $75,000 to $100,000.

"It won't be used for my defense in pending trials," Hoffa said. "It will be used for the benefit of business agents."

He said the union expected a wave of litigation involving officials and business agents, especially if it is expelled from the AFL-CIO next month. He didn't elaborate.

Suggested Prices on 1958 Model Cars Up by 3.4 Pct.

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press
Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Factory-suggested list prices for 1958 automobiles are up roughly an average of 3.4 per cent over 1957 listings. This is about one-half the increase announced a year ago.

In dollars and cents most factory-announced increases range from $35 to as much as $225. It could be argued that some advances were smaller and some higher.

The prices announced by the car makers are the "suggested" list prices. They are not binding on the retailers. They do not include federal excise, state and local taxes, extra-cost accessories, shipping charges, dealer preparation and dealer handling charges.

A car in the lower-price bracket could have a factory-suggested tag of $2,200 and cost the retail buyer $3,100.

The suggested list price is the wholesale cost and the retailer's markup of up to 25 per cent. The markup is said by some makers to be of a size to permit the retailer to vary the delivered cost to meet price competition.

All this—taxes, optional, extra-cost equipment and competitive price discounting—means the intending car buyer hardly can figure what his delivered cost will be from the factory-announced price. Financing charges are another substantial item not included in the suggested price.

Should new car sales lag with a heavy accumulation of dealer inventories it is quite probable none of the increase announced at the factory will be passed on to the buyer. But he cannot escape the taxes or financing charges.

And further to confuse the buyer trying to determine his delivered cost is the fact some factory figures include adjustments for extra equipment. Some of these extras have been made standard for 1958 against optional classification in 1957. In some instances items standard in 1957 models are optional at extra cost for 1958. And some optional items have been increased in price.

Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth will account for more than 60 per cent of the industry's volume for 1958. Chevrolet announced an increase of $118 on its lowest priced two-door utility vehicle, carrying a suggested tag of $1,824. Ford cut factory-suggested prices from $11 to $54 on four models and advanced others from $57 to $134. It introduced a new business coupe with a factory list of $1,799.

The lowest priced model of Ford's 1958 line for which there was a 1957 counterpart is $1,880 for the Custom 300 Tudor. Ford says that after allowing for options that were standard on 1957 models this amounts to a $22.60 reduction.

Plymouth's lowest priced model is a two-door business coupe factory-suggested at $1,843, up $65 from last year.

In all instances the Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth prices are for six-cylinder models. Eight-cylinder units are $100 higher for Chevrolet and Plymouth and from $100 to $124 higher for Ford models.

Price advances in the medium price field generally are in the same area as those in the lower price group.

One price surprise was announcement that the 1958 model Continental Mark III two - door hardtop has a factory-suggested tag of $5,367 plus excise, taxes, handling and other items. The figure amounts to a reduction of $3,840 from the 1957 listing.

When Ford introduced the Continental in 1955 with that single model it was called Ford's $10,000 prestige car. The cut, in effect, takes the Continental out of the ultra-high price bracket.

Pricewise the new Continental will compete with Chrysler's Crown and Lebaron Imperial models, factory-suggested at from $4,417 to $5,468, plus taxes and handling charges, and Cadillac's sedan DeVille model, factory listed at $5,000, plus all taxes.

Excepting for federal excise and dealer handling charges, the charges that have to be added to the factory-suggested price vary widely. It has been figured the federal excise of 10 per cent on the dealers' cost and the preparation and handling charges add from $180 on the lowest priced Chevrolet to as much as $600 on some Cadillac models.

Using Taxi To Chase Gull Proves Costly

The gull, with a fishhook stuck in its beak, has been flying around the seafront for a week. Bovey, an employe of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has been trying to catch the bird and remove the hook.

"Everytime somebody sees it they call us and I speed to the spot in a taxi," said Bovey. "We have spent $7 in taxi fares, but each time the bird has flown."

Suggested Prices on 1958 Model Cars Up by 3.4 Pct.

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press
Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Factory-suggested list prices for 1958 automobiles are up roughly an average of 3.4 per cent over 1957 listings. This is about one-half the increase announced a year ago.

In dollars and cents most factory-announced increases range from $35 to as much as $225. It could be argued that some advances were smaller and some higher.

The prices announced by the car makers are the "suggested" list prices. They are not binding on the retailers. They do not include federal excise, state and local taxes, extra-cost accessories, shipping charges, dealer preparation and dealer handling charges.

A car in the lower-price bracket could have a factory-suggested tag of $2,200 and cost the retail buyer $3,100.

The suggested list price is the wholesale cost and the retailer's markup of up to 25 per cent. The markup is said by some makers to be of a size to permit the retailer to vary the delivered cost to meet price competition.

All this—taxes, optional, extra-cost equipment and competitive price discounting—means the intending car buyer hardly can figure what his delivered cost will be from the factory-announced price. Financing charges are another substantial item not included in the suggested price.

Should new car sales lag with a heavy accumulation of dealer inventories it is quite probable none of the increase announced at the factory will be passed on to the buyer. But he cannot escape the taxes or financing charges.

And further to confuse the buyer trying to determine his delivered cost is the fact some factory figures include adjustments for extra equipment. Some of these extras have been made standard for 1958 against optional classification in 1957. In some instances items standard in 1957 models are optional at extra cost for 1958. And some optional items have been increased in price.

Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth will account for more than 60 per cent of the industry's volume for 1958. Chevrolet announced an increase of $118 on its lowest priced two-door utility vehicle, carrying a suggested tag of $1,824. Ford cut factory-suggested prices from $11 to $54 on four models and advanced others from $57 to $134. It introduced a new business coupe with a factory list of $1,799.

The lowest priced model of Ford's 1958 line for which there was a 1957 counterpart is $1,880 for the Custom 300 Tudor. Ford says that after allowing for options that were standard on 1957 models this amounts to a $22.60 reduction.

Plymouth's lowest priced model is a two-door business coupe factory-suggested at $1,843, up $65 from last year.

In all instances the Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth prices are for six-cylinder models. Eight-cylinder units are $100 higher for Chevrolet and Plymouth and from $100 to $124 higher for Ford models.

Price advances in the medium price field generally are in the same area as those in the lower price group.

One price surprise was announcement that the 1958 model Continental Mark III two - door hardtop has a factory-suggested tag of $5,367 plus excise, taxes, handling and other items. The figure amounts to a reduction of $3,840 from the 1957 listing.

When Ford introduced the Continental in 1955 with that single model it was called Ford's $10,000 prestige car. The cut, in effect, takes the Continental out of the ultra-high price bracket.

Pricewise the new Continental will compete with Chrysler's Crown and Lebaron Imperial models, factory-suggested at from $4,417 to $5,468, plus taxes and handling charges, and Cadillac's sedan DeVille model, factory listed at $5,000, plus all taxes.

Excepting for federal excise and dealer handling charges, the charges that have to be added to the factory-suggested price vary widely. It has been figured the federal excise of 10 per cent on the dealers' cost and the preparation and handling charges add from $180 on the lowest priced Chevrolet to as much as $600 on some Cadillac models.

Glenna Watkins, honored queen, conducted the meeting during which Virginia Milner gave a report on the De Molay installation services that several of the girls attended last week.

Miss Watkins appointed committees for the 50 - 50 dance that will be held on Nov. 30 in the Bloomingburg High School gymnasium.

The meeting was closed in ritualistic form following the coin march.

Refreshments were served by Sue and Lynda Stephenson, Marcia Milner, Lorraine Smith and Jane Whiteside.

Baltimore Is Waging Campaign To Preserve First U. S. Warship

By DEANE AND DAVID HELLER

BALTIMORE — Civic - minded citizens here are sponsoring a nation-wide campaign to raise $2 million to restore the first ship of our fighting navy, the USS Constellation, and early support gained in their campaign makes them optimistic that the goal will be reached.

In the nautically-minded state of Maryland, home of the Naval Academy, the sad state of America's first fighting ship has long been a subject of sorrow.

The Constellation committee was formed and the campaign is the result.

A collection canister is being placed in every Maryland schoolroom and youngsters of the Free State are among the first to contribute to the nationwide drive.

The Constellation was launched 160 years ago, in 1797, in Baltimore. Her crew was mostly Maryland farm boys. The rugged old vessel was a masterpiece of construction, perhaps partly because her skipper, Capt. Thomas Truston, inspected every piece of wood that went into the vessel.

* * *

ROBERT E. MICHEL, general manager of the campaign fund, declares that at least 35 per cent of the ship's timbers are original. Her iron ballast may still be seen in the hull.

Not as well known as her sister ship, the USS Constitution (Old Ironsides), the first commissioned fighting ship of the Navy.

Only two years after her launching she scored her first victory. Sailing the Atlantic, on the morning of Feb. 9, 1799, she caught sight of the French frigate L'Insurgente—an enemy in the vicious, undeclared war of the period in which French vessels preyed upon American shipping.

The L'Insurgente was larger than the Constellation, but the fearless U. S. crew attacked anyway, with all 44 guns blazing. Performing the difficult naval maneuver, "crossing the T," the Constellation placed herself in position to rake the French frigate from stem to stern.

By 3 o'clock of the afternoon, the enemy ship was a battered wreck.

* * *

TRUXTON was shortly promoted to be a commodore, but he retained command of the gallant vessel. The next year she engaged the French vessel La Vengeanc, and despite a shattered mainmast, droveLa Vengeance away. Two years afterward, in the War Against the Barbary Pirates, the Constellation destroyed 10 of 17 gunboats guarding the port of Tripoli.

After the War With Tripoli was won, the Constellation was docked at the Washington Navy Yard. Later, during the War of 1812, she thwarted a British land attempt at Hampton Roads, Va.

* * *

IN 1844, she sailed around the world on a goodwill mission. Her last action was patrols against South African slavers and Confederate raiders in the War Between the States.

The gallant old Constellation was decommissioned in 1868 and used as a practice ship at the Naval Academy and as a receiving ship at Newport, R. I. In late 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered her recommissioned and she became the flagship of Adm. Ernest King, commander of the Atlantic fleet.

Later, she was towed to Boston, almost sinking en route. For years, Maryland civic groups agitated to have her returned to her home port of Baltimore. Finally, two years ago, the once proud Constellation returned—rotting, her masts and sails gone.

* * *

THE CONSTELLATION committee hopes to raise $100,000 from Maryland school children, $900,000 from Maryland adults, and a million dollars from the rest of the nation.

If the money is raised, the Constellation will be restored and placed in a brine and stone berth at Fort McHenry in Baltimore, scene of the battle which inspired Francis Scott Key to write The Star-Spangled Banner.

Contributions may be mailed to Constellation, Baltimore, Md.

The Constellation under full sail as she looked when she proudly sailed the seas in the early 1800s.

HOOVER AIDS BIBLE PROGRAM—Former President Herbert Hoover, a sponsor of the American Bible Society's annual Worldwide Bible Reading program, smiles his approval of this year's theme poster held by Pvt. Beverly Pardue, U. S. Army, Portland, Maine. The slogan, "Now in 1,100 Tongues," refers to the number of languages and dialects into which at least one book of the Bible has been translated. The program, which unites more than 15,000,000 persons in more than 50 countries through daily readings from Thanksgiving to Christmas, was hailed by President Eisenhower in a message to the Society, which is headed by Dr. Daniel Burke.

Dayton Janitor Held In Theft of Narcotics

DAYTON (AP)—Dayton police are holding a 30-year-old janitor they said admitted stealing narcotics from doctor's offices in the building where he worked.

Detectives said the janitor, Grady Wilson, worked in the downtown Fidelity Medical Building. He admitted taking cocaine for the last two months from doctors offices he entered with the use of a master key. Wilson told police he sold the cocaine for $10 a bottle.

'Silent Killer' Rides Automobiles In Fayette County

A silent killer has started its annual ride in many Fayette County automobiles, warns Mrs. Fern Chaffin, secretary of the Fayette County Automobile Club. This potential killer may strike at any time during the winter.

"Many persons will die, many others will become ill — before the cold months are over — without knowing the cause," Mrs. Chaffin says.

"That killer is carbon monoxide, all the more dangerous because it has no odor, color, or taste, and strikes without warning. But precautions can be taken.

"One is to have an immediate check of car exhaust pipe, muffler, and connections, and always to keep one car window partly open. Another is never to warm up a motor in a closed garage.

"The one danger warning which can be recognized is drowsiness. Any motorist who starts feeling that way may save his life and those of his passengers by immediately opening the car and getting out for a short walk in the fresh air."

Pennsy Rail Profit Down, Take Is Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania Railroad profits are down though gross revenue is up.

These earnings, the railroad said, were $21,291,731 or $1.62 a share for the period compared with net income of $36,655,498 or $2.78 a share last year.

Gross revenue for the 10 month period went from $826,268,891 in 1956 to $839,433,412 this year.

But this was offset, the report said, by an increase in expenses of more than $28 million.

Only two years after her launching she scored her first victory. Sailing the Atlantic, on the morning of Feb. 9, 1799, she caught sight of the French frigate L'Insurgente—an enemy in the vicious, undeclared war of the period in which French vessels preyed upon American shipping.

The L'Insurgente was larger than the Constellation, but the fearless U. S. crew attacked anyway, with all 44 guns blazing. Performing the difficult naval maneuver, "crossing the T," the Constellation placed herself in position to rake the French frigate from stem to stern.

By 3 o'clock of the afternoon, the enemy ship was a battered wreck.

* * *

TRUXTON was shortly promoted to be a commodore, but he retained command of the gallant vessel. The next year she engaged the French vessel La Vengeance, and despite a shattered mainmast, drove La Vengeance away. Two years afterward, in the War Against the Barbary Pirates, the Constellation destroyed 10 of 17 gunboats guarding the port of Tripoli.

After the War With Tripoli was won, the Constellation was docked at the Washington Navy Yard. Later, during the War of 1812, she thwarted a British land attempt at Hampton Roads, Va.

* * *

IN 1844, she sailed around the world on a goodwill mission. Her last action was patrols against South African slavers and Confederate raiders in the War Between the States.

The gallant old Constellation was decommissioned in 1868 and used as a practice ship at the Naval Academy and as a receiving ship at Newport, R. I. In late 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered her recommissioned and she became the flagship of Adm. Ernest King, commander of the Atlantic fleet.

Later, she was towed to Boston, almost sinking en route. For years, Maryland civic groups agitated to have her returned to her home port of Baltimore. Finally, two years ago, the once proud Constellation returned—rotting, her masts and sails gone.

* * *

THE CONSTELLATION committee hopes to raise $100,000 from Maryland school children, $900,000 from Maryland adults, and a million dollars from the rest of the nation.

If the money is raised, the Constellation will be restored and placed in a brine and stone berth at Fort McHenry in Baltimore, scene of the battle which inspired Francis Scott Key to write The Star-Spangled Banner.

Contributions may be mailed to Constellation, Baltimore, Md.

HOOVER AIDS BIBLE PROGRAM—Former President Herbert Hoover, a sponsor of the American Bible Society's annual Worldwide Bible Reading program, smiles his approval of this year's theme poster held by Pvt. Beverly Pardue, U. S. Army, Portland, Maine. The slogan, "Now in 1,100 Tongues," refers to the number of languages and dialects into which at least one book of the Bible has been translated. The program, which unites more than 15,000,000 persons in more than 50 countries through daily readings from Thanksgiving to Christmas, was hailed by President Eisenhower in a message to the Society, which is headed by Dr. Daniel Burke.

Dayton Janitor Held In Theft of Narcotics

DAYTON (AP)—Dayton police are holding a 30-year-old janitor they said admitted stealing narcotics from doctor's offices in the building where he worked.

Detectives said the janitor, Grady Wilson, worked in the downtown Fidelity Medical Building. He admitted taking cocaine for the last two months from doctors offices he entered with the use of a master key. Wilson told police he sold the cocaine for $10 a bottle.

'Silent Killer' Rides Automobiles In Fayette County

A silent killer has started its annual ride in many Fayette County automobiles, warns Mrs. Fern Chaffin, secretary of the Fayette County Automobile Club. This potential killer may strike at any time during the winter.

"Many persons will die, many others will become ill — before the cold months are over — without knowing the cause," Mrs. Chaffin says.

"That killer is carbon monoxide, all the more dangerous because it has no odor, color, or taste, and strikes without warning. But precautions can be taken.

"One is to have an immediate check of car exhaust pipe, muffler, and connections, and always to keep one car window partly open. Another is never to warm up a motor in a closed garage.

"The one danger warning which can be recognized is drowsiness. Any motorist who starts feeling that way may save his life and those of his passengers by immediately opening the car and getting out for a short walk in the fresh air."

70,000 in Ohio On Idle Pay List

COLUMBUS (AP)—The number of Ohioans drawing jobless benefits now totals 70,000.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports the number of claimants who had been drawing benefits one week or more as of last Saturday was 70,044. That was an increase of 7,000 in one week. The increase since Oct. 28 has been nearly 15,000.

New claims filed last week totaled 14,882, a decrease from the 16,021 who filed new claims the previous week.

Old Log Water Pipe Unearthed in Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP) — A log water pipe, which a city official said was laid between 1817 and 1928, has been unearthed here.

The log, of oak, is 10 feet long and has a three-inch hole in the middle. It was unearthed during the digging of a tunnel. It was eight feet in the ground and was in excellent condition. A brass collar was used for connecting logs.

Pennsy Rail Profit Down, Take Is Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania Railroad profits are down though gross revenue is up.

These earnings, the railroad said, were $21,291,731 or $1.62 a share for the period compared with net income of $36,655,498 or $2.78 a share last year.

Gross revenue for the 10 month period went from $826,268,891 in 1956 to $839,433,412 this year.

But this was offset, the report said, by an increase in expenses of more than $28 million.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Already, according to news reports, another super - highway from lakes to the Ohio River is being considered, and one of the proposed routes would cross Fayette County from northwest to southeast.

This project would largely follow Route 35, from Lake Michigan and across Indiana and Ohio.

Route 35 starts at Michigan City, Ind., passes through Kokomo, Muncie and Richmond, Indiana, Dayton, Xenia, Washington C. H., Frankfort, Chillicothe, Jackson, Gallipolis and ends at Charleston, W. Va., where it connects with the West Virginia Turnpike. However the route from Charleston southeastward might be Route 60.

Another route under discussion would come from some point on Lake Erie, down through Ohio, possibly missing Fayette County, and picking up Route 35 or some nearby route in the southeastern part of the state.

The Route 35 project would carry a vast amount of traffic from Chicago and the Northwest, headed for the east and southeast coast, and returning.

This project, which might cut a 300 foot swath across Fayette County would intersect the 300 - foot freeway being projected from northeast to southwest in the state, possibly near West Lancaster. The exact location of this latter project has not been announced.

THE "RED ONION"

Recently when Howard Harper of the Record Herald staff, gave me an old billiard ball which had been dug up on the site of the Fayette Theater some 30 years ago and which had been given to him by former Sheriff Henry W. Jones, it started a train of thought and some investigation regarding the famous (or infamous) "Red Onion" saloon, pool room and, this that and the other.

The pool ball has a wide green band about it, and the figures 14 on each side. The ends are cream-colored with the words "Old Red Onion, H. W. Jones" on one end and a full-moon face on the other, placed there with ink.

Definitely the old pool ball is solid ivory and will be placed in the archieves of the Fayette County Historical Society, as a reminder of early days.

When the Red Onion was at its height, it was regarded as well named. It was a "hot place."

A sign with a red onion painted on it hung over the front door, and the place was in the rooms on S. Fayette St. now occupied by Alva Merritt's Surplus Sales store and barbershop, and Ottice Stookey's watch repair shop and jewelry store.

The upstairs rooms were frequently used for illegal and immoral purposes, according to reports from those who remember the place.

For years Little Dick Collopy was in charge of the place, which had the repuation of being one of the real honkey tonks of the 22 saloons in the city at that time. It passed out with the other saloons right after the turn of the century when the city was voted dry under local option laws.

The room occupied by the Stookey shop was a dining and drinking room, and in the real wall is a boarded-up window through which the food was served from the kitchen. The saloon proper occupied the main room of the Merritt store, and overflowed into the "dining room."

When the Red Onion was one of the hot spots in the city, two saloons and pool rooms occupied the two rooms to the north, on the present location of the Fayette Theater.

My information is that Joe Tapsico operated the place next to the Red Onion, and a man named Shannon the room on the alley next to Tapsico's place.

After the saloons were ousted the three places were favorite congregating places for mixed crowds and much trouble.

PIGEONS ROOST HIGH

Frequently more than 100 of the birds will be sitting on the ridges on the dome, so evenly spaced apart that it is little short of amazing.

Apparently the pigeons are lined up some 10 inches apart, from the peak of the dome down some 15 feet or more.

The favorite roosting place of several hundreds of the birds is on the roof of the Masonic Temple building, where they long have been a nuisance, and nothing particular has been done to oust them from their high retreat.

WHEAT RESPONDING

During the past two weeks or more, with ample rainfall and mild weather, the fall - sown wheat has made a remarkable growth.

While some of it was sown a little late, it has grown very rapidly with indications that it will go into the winter in good condition.

In the past two weeks fields which were barely showing some green, as the wheat came through, are now covered with the green wheat.

Abbe Lane May Win in Movies Yet

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Abbe Lane swore she wouldn't return to Hollywood until the combined studio heads bore her through the streets like an Egyptian princess, with the lesser officials strewing rose petals in her path.

However, there are indications that Hollywood is coming around to her way of thinking about Abbe Lane.

"Hollywood!" she seethed. "Don't mention Hollywood to me!"

I took a chance and did so, and she continued: "I left here two years ago because nobody in Hollywood could see me as anything but a band singer. I went to Italy, where they have imagination about a person's talent. When they see a girl sing, they realize she could be able to act, too."

In two years, she did eight pictures.

"I didn't quite get carried through the streets when I returned," she smiled, "but they did make concessions to have me do the picture. Because I have to start play rehearsals right away, they started the picture earlier than they expected."

Abbe is returning to New York to start work on "Captain's Paradise." Jose Ferrer is putting on the broadway musical version of the English movie with Tony Randall playing the Alec Guinness role.

What's Back of the Foreign Car Boom?

By GERALD S. SNYDER

NEW YORK—What's back of the foreign car boom?

Industry sources here admit to some pretty good reasons, but with General Motors putting its British-build Vauxhall Victor and its West German product, the Opel Rekord, on the market, America's largest auto manufacturer takes a huge step forward in an effort to cash in on the demand that has hurt the lowest-priced American car market.

The move is a significant one. Americans are buying more small cars now than they ever have before and the demand for foreign cars, especially, is increasing.

Last year about 100,000 foreign automobiles were sold in the United States and this year it's estimated that approximately 220,000 of the pint-size cars will be sold.

While this is only four per cent of the expected gross volume of 5,500,000 total car sales, industry officials feel it is indicative of a good market potential for United States auto makers.

Heaviest of the demand is for the German-made Volkswagen. The popular little car, manufactured in Wolksburg, West Germany, at the rate of 1,600 per day, is being sold in 112 different countries throughout the world. An estimated 65,000 are expected to be bought in the United States during 1957.

* * *

SALES OF BRITISH cars in the United States this year have increased well over 100 per cent since 1956. The British Automobile Manufacturer's Assn., reported that 8,300 British cars were shipped to this country in June, making the United States the British car industry's top export customer and setting an all-time monthly high export record.

Britain's small economy sedans such as Austin, English Ford, Hillman, Moris, Nash Metropolitan and Sunbeam Rapier, are all enjoying substantial gains over a year ago.

Reasons for the boom are many. Foreign cars are still comparatively low in price; they boast high fuel mileage, and stay in style longer since major design changes are not made as often as they are on American models. In addition, they're noted for their exceptionally fine maneuverability and parking ease.

Increased sales of foreign cars can in many cases be traced to a family's desire for something different in the way of a second car. Two cars no longer are a symbol of wealth, and the number of two-car families is rising.

Suburban living and larger families, coupled with higher wages and increased installment buying may, in fact, be putting two-car American just around the proverbial corner.

The Universal CIT Credit Corp. the country's largest independent automobile financing company, reports there are now four and one-half million two-car ownership families in the United States.

* * *

THE CORPORATION predicts that the total will jump to seven and one-half million by 1960. It figures, on the basis of 60 million car-owning families by 1960, that the number of two-car families will be 20 per cent of the car owner population—an increase of seven per cent from 1957.

The demand in America for foreign-made automobiles is mostly for cars in the low-priced field. In this category are the German-made Volkswagen, the German Isetta-300, the Austin A-35 deluxe two-door sedan, the Citroen 2CV, the Renault 4CVL four-door sedan, and the Ford Anglia series.

In announcing that the Vauxhall Victor and Opel Rekord would be sold in the United States, Harlow H. Curtice, president of GM, said the cars would retain those features that are essential in foreign markets, but with advanced and engineering features "which have proven to be highly acceptable in our American products."

As an avocation, James P. Bender, treasurer of the Bethlehem Steel Co., conducts a cattle research farm near Coopersburg, Pa. He recently gave 60 Holsteins and 30 Guernseys to Rutgers for the University's Dairy Research Farm.

Ohio Dem Leaders To 'Go to School'

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Democratic precinct leaders are going to school to polish up on "politicking" techniques.

State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman announced that a two-day, 14-hour training course for 20 to 25 precinct leaders (at least one from each congressional district) will be held in Columbus Jan. 25-26.

He said films, skits, discussion and actual door-to-door convassing experience will be used in the intensive training course under the direction of Dr. Malcolm S. Knowles of Wilmette, Ill., a representative of the Adult Education Assn. of the U. S.

Women's Clubs Federation Battling for New Reforms

By MRS. R.I.C. PROUT
(For Jane Eads)

Away with open flour bins and unwrapped bread! Away with unpasteurized milk delivered in unsanitary cans! No longer shall meat be sold without government inspection and grading!

Those were the words of clubwomen 50 years ago. Today the 11 million members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs still are crying out for all that is good in their material and spiritual lives.

Women the world over are emerging from their shells to take an active part in community life. Wherever I have gone on my numerous trips abroad, I have found that women are eager to do their part.

The General Federation, the largest group of organized women in the world, has clubs in 58 other countries. Just recently we have welcomed into membership the Deutsche Hausfrauen Bund with a membership of 150,000 in clubs all over Germany.

Another new club is the League for the Civic Formation of Women at Mendoza, Argentina. That makes four clubs in the Argentine. Next February the General Federation will hold a "Hemispheric Solidarity Seminar" in Buenos Aires. The seminar will bring together women from all over South America to exchange ideas and discuss various problems.

The only completely effective way of knowing world problems is by travel and association with people in other parts of the world. The "person to person" exchange of ideas is the infallible method.

The members of the more than 15,000 clubs in the General Federation in the United States are keenly interested in the preservation of our American heritage, but they also know that today world problems come to the breakfast table through the press, radio and television. While working for all that is good in American life, they also believe in helping women the world over in order to establish and maintain a lasting peace.

Developments on B&O Outlined at Meeting

BALTIMORE — The 131st annual meeting of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. drew holders of more than 90 per cent of the common and preferred stock outstanding represented either in person or by proxy. This stock representation was one of the largest since the turn of the century.

Howard E. Simpson, president of the company, conducted the meeting, during which he reviewed major developments on the railroad during the past year. For the first 10 months of this year, he commented, general business conditions could be described as only fair; in recent weeks there has been a drastic decline from this level.

While the movement of coal has held up well thus far in 1957, Simpson told the stockholders that in other traffic the railroad has shared an industry - wide decrease in volume under 1956. The B & O's 4.15 per cent decrease in revenue ton miles, he pointed out, was, however, less than the decrease for Eastern District railroads as a whole.

* * *

REASONS for the decrease, he said, included a decline in the production of heavy industry, coupled with strikes by dock, tugboat and cement workers during the year.

Despite the lower level of traffic, Simpson noted, the railroad's revenues have shown a small increase, due entirely to freight rate increases which became effective during December of 1956 and August of this year. But while total income for the 10 months of 1957 was up 0.86 per cent over that for the like period of 1956, total expenses rose 1.98 per cent over 1956. As a result the company's net income for the first 10 months of this year was $21,076,385, down $3,514,218, or 14.29 per cent, under the net for the same period of 1956.

Simpson discussed at length the considerable rise in operating costs during 1957, brought about by rising wages and material prices. He described the steps the industry as a whole is taking to secure the right to charge rates which would partially raise the roads' return on investment to a more equitable level and aid in meeting inflated costs. While these rate increases will produce approximately $26,000,000 of additional revenue for the B&O during 1957, increases in payroll costs and material prices this year will total approximately $25,300,000, and on an annual basis, $39,100,000.

* * *

DESCRIBING the company's measures to reduce its expenses, Simpson told the stockholders that, through the acquisition of outstanding bonds of the wholly-owned Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railway, B&O's fixed charges were reduced by a new amount of approximately $813,000 yearly.

During the first 10 months of this year, he said, the road achieved a new debt reduction of $23,523,930 interest charges thus far in 1957 show a decrease of $363,118 under the same period of 1956.

Turning to property and service improvements, Simpson noted that important roadway projects presently under way include work on the company's new yard at Cumberland, Md.; a reduction in grade between Shaversville and Hopkins, W. Va., and two track relocations necessitated by government dam construction.

* * *

IN THE FIELD of automation, he added, the B&O is developing data processing systems for use with a large, high-speed computer it is scheduled to receive in mid-1958. Progress thus far includes installation of machines for processing freight train and car movement information in about 50 of the railroad's most important yards and terminals.

In conclusion, Simpson told the stockholders that the last session of Congress had seen the enactment of some constructive legislation in the field of transportation. This legislation, he said, will improve the railroads' competitive situation by removing some of the handicaps and inequalities under which they have labored in meeting competition from other types of carriers.

B&O Declares Extra Dividend

BALTIMORE — The president and directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co., have declared an extra dividend for the year 1957 of 50 cents per share on the common capital stock of the company, payable Dec. 30, 1957, to holders of record as of the close of business Dec. 3, 1957. This payment will increase the amount of dividends paid in the year 1957 on the common stock to $2.50 per share, the same as for 1956.

The directors also declared dividends for the year 1958 of $4 per share on the preferred capital stock and $1 per share on the common capital stock of the company, payable in four equal quarterly installments of $1 per share on the preferred and 25 cents per share on the common, on March 20, June 20, Sept. 19 and Dec. 19, 1958.

Memorial Stadium Donors Will Get Special Record

Donations of one dollar or more to the Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium fund will bring the donor a special 45 rpm recording of "Anchors Aweigh" and the "Marine Corps Hymn," Pat Waller, Navy recruiter here, announces.

Featuring a 45-piece brass band and a male chorus, the recording is not available through regular stores and can only be obtained by sending the dollar or more to the Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium P. O. Box 777, Annapolis, Md.

With about one third of the $2.1 million goal already in the till, the stadium drive will continue through the fall and winter months, according to an announcement made by the Secretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates.

AT THE FAYETTE—The Ten Commandments, inspiring story of the life of Moses and the Ten Commandments, opened at the Fayette Theatre Wednesday. The film was inspired by the Bible, and includes other material from the studies of Bible scholars throughout the centuries. Charlton Heston playes the role of Moses and is supported by such stars as Anne Baxter, John Derek, Yul Brynner, Edward G. Robinson, Vincent Price, Yvonne De Carlo, Nina Foch, Judith Anderson, Debra Paget and Martha Scott. The picture premiered earlier this month and Washington C. H. is one of the first smaller cities in Ohio to play the Technicolor picture produced by Cecil B. DeMille.

Many Ohio Officials Slated To Greet Ike in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — President Eisenhower will be greeted by top state, county and city officials when he arrives here next Tuesday afternoon to deliver a major speech on national and international security.

Heading the greeters will be Gov. C. William O'Neill. He has announced that he will set aside the entire day to be certain to be on hand when the President arrives at Cleveland-Hopkins Airport about 4 p. m.

The officials will accompany Eisenhower in a motorcade to the downtown area. Mrs. Eisenhower probably will not accompany the President to Cleveland.

Others expected to be on hand include U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

Humphrey will introduce the President for his speech at Public Hall that night. It will be telecast and broadcast nationally.

U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche is visiting friends on the West Coast and it is not certain whether he will be here for the President's visit.

Curtis Lee Smith, president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, is in charge of arrangements for the visit. Cuyahoga County Republican chairman A.L. (Sonny) DeMaioribus said party leaders are not participating in the arrangements because of the non-political nature of the President's visit, but that they undoubtedly would be represented.

Smith estimated that about 12,000 seats will be available at Public Hall for the President's speech. Admission will be by ticket only and the demand has been "terrific," he said. Distribution of the tickets will be handled by 20 civic and professional groups.

The speech will be the third in a series delivered by the President in various sections of the country to assure the national that United States military and technological forces are able to compete with Russia despite Russia's jump on this country in delivering an earth satellite into outer space.

His subject will be "The Value of International Cooperation in Our Nation's Security." The speech will be televised "live" by the Columbia Broadcasting Co. from 9 to 9:30 p.m. E.S.T., and broadcast by radio networks at the same time. The American Broadcasting Co. will televise the talk on film at 10:30 p.m. and the National Broadcasting Co. at 11:15 p.m.

Eisenhower is scheduled to be flown back to Washington immediately after the talk.

The President's two previous speeches in the series were at Washington Nov. 7 and in Oklahoma City Nov. 13.

Smith said that applications for tickets should be mailed to the Chamber of Commerce offices by Friday. Persons not affiliated with organizations in charge of ticket distribution may request two tickets by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the chamber before that time.

"We have been flooded with requests for tickets from Clevelanders and groups in nearby communities," Smith said. "We can't guarantee to fill all requests, but all that can be taken care of will be in the mail by Friday night."

Groups that will handle the ticket distribution are the Cleveland Advertising Club, Cleveland Treasurers Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Cleveland Convention and Trade Show Bureau, Cleveland Executives Assn., Junior Chamber of Commerce, City Club, Assn., Smaller Business of America, Inc., Couneil on World Affairs, Cleveland Personnel Assn., Cleveland Industrial Relations Assn.. Cleveland Training Directors Assn., Cleveland Works Managers Assn., Cleveland Sales Executives Club, Cleveland Engineering Society, Cleveland Farmers Club and the northeastern Ohio chapter of the Public Relations Society of America.

President Eisenhower's last visit here was Oct. 1, 1956, during his campaign for re-election. Nearly 100,000 persons saw him then—50,000 at Public Square, where he spoke at the time, and 25,000 to 30,000 along the route of the motorcade from the airport.

Developments on B&O Outlined at Meeting

BALTIMORE — The 131st annual meeting of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. drew holders of more than 90 per cent of the common and preferred stock outstanding represented either in person or by proxy. This stock representation was one of the largest since the turn of the century.

Howard E. Simpson, president of the company, conducted the meeting, during which he reviewed major developments on the railroad during the past year. For the first 10 months of this year, he commented, general business conditions could be described as only fair; in recent weeks there has been a drastic decline from this level.

While the movement of coal has held up well thus far in 1957, Simpson told the stockholders that in other traffic the railroad has shared an industry - wide decrease in volume under 1956. The B & O's 4.15 per cent decrease in revenue ton miles, he pointed out, was, however, less than the decrease for Eastern District railroads as a whole.

• • •

REASONS for the decrease, he said, included a decline in the production of heavy industry, coupled with strikes by dock, tugboat and cement workers during the year.

Despite the lower level of traffic, Simpson noted, the railroad's revenues have shown a small increase, due entirely to freight rate increases which became effective during December of 1956 and August of this year. But while total income for the 10 months of 1957 was up 0.56 per cent over that for the like period of 1956, total expenses rose 1.98 per cent over 1956. As a result the company's net income for the first 10 months of this year was $21,076,385, down $3,514,218, or 14.29 per cent, under the net for the same period of 1956.

Simpson discussed at length the considerable rise in operating costs during 1957, brought about by rising wages and material prices. He described the steps the industry as a whole is taking to secure the right to charge rates which would partially raise the roads' return on investment to a more equitable level and aid in meeting inflated costs. While these rate increases will produce approximately $26,000,000 of additional revenue for the B&O during 1957, increases in payroll costs and material prices this year will total approximately $25,300,000, and on an annual basis, $39,100,000.

• • •

DESCRIBING the company's measures to reduce its expenses, Simpson told the stockholders that, through the acquisition of outstanding bonds of the wholly-owned Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railway, B&O's fixed charges were reduced by a new amount of approximately $813,000 yearly.

During the first 10 months of this year, he said, the road achieved a new debt reduction of $23,523,930 interest charges thus far in 1957 show a decrease of $363,118 under the same period of 1956.

Turning to property and service improvements, Simpson noted that important roadway projects presently under way include work on the company's new yard at Cumberland, Md.; a reduction in grade between Shaversville and Hopkins, W. Va., and two track relocations necessitated by government dam construction.

• • •

IN THE FIELD of automation, he added, the B&O is developing data processing systems for use with a large, high-speed computer it is scheduled to receive in mid-1958. Progress thus far includes installation of machines for processing freight train and car movement information in about 50 of the railroad's most important yards and terminals.

In conclusion, Simpson told the stockholders that the last session of Congress had seen the enactment of some constructive legislation in the field of transportation. This legislation, he said, will improve the railroads' competitive situation by removing some of the handicaps and inequalities under which they have labored in meeting competition from other types of carriers.

B&O Declares Extra Dividend

BALTIMORE — The president and directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co., have declared an extra dividend for the year 1957 of 50 cents per share on the common capital stock of the company, payable Dec. 30, 1957, to holders of record as of the close of business Dec. 3, 1957. This payment will increase the amount of dividends paid in the year 1957 on the common stock to $2.50 per share, the same as for 1956.

The directors also declared dividends for the year 1958 of $4 per share on the preferred capital stock and $1 per share on the common capital stock of the company, payable in four equal quarterly installments of $1 per share on the preferred and 25 cents per share on the common, on March 20, June 20, Sept. 19 and Dec. 19, 1958.

Memorial Stadium Donors Will Get Special Record

Donations of one dollar or more to the Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium fund will bring the donor a special 45 rpm recording of "Anchors Aweigh" and the "Marine Corps Hymn," Pat Waller, Navy recruiter here, announces.

Featuring a 45-piece brass band and a male chorus, the recording is not available through regular stores and can only be obtained by sending the dollar or more to the Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium P. O. Box 777, Annapolis, Md.

With about one third of the $2.1 million goal already in the till, the stadium drive will continue through the fall and winter months, according to an announcement made by the Secretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates.

AT THE FAYETTE—The Ten Commandments, inspiring story of the life of Moses and the Ten Commandments, opened at the Fayette Theatre Wednesday. The film was inspired by the Bible, and includes other material from the studies of Bible scholars throughout the centuries. Charlton Heston playes the role of Moses and is supported by such stars as Anne Baxter, John Derek, Yul Brynner, Edward G. Robinson, Vincent Price, Yvonne De Carlo, Nina Foch, Judith Anderson, Debra Paget and Martha Scott. The picture premiered earlier this month and Washington C. H. is one of the first smaller cities in Ohio to play the Technicolor picture produced by Cecil B. DeMille.

Many Ohio Officials Slated To Greet Ike in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — President Eisenhower will be greeted by top state, county and city officials when he arrives here next Tuesday afternoon to deliver a major speech on national and international security.

Heading the greeters will be Gov. C. William O'Neill. He has announced that he will set aside the entire day to be certain to be on hand when the President arrives at Cleveland-Hopkins Airport about 4 p. m.

The officials will accompany Eisenhower in a motorcade to the downtown area. Mrs. Eisenhower probably will not accompany the President to Cleveland.

Others expected to be on hand include U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

Humphrey will introduce the President for his speech at Public Hall that night. It will be telecast and broadcast nationally.

Cash-Carry Stores Study Charge Plans

Penney To Test Credit Deal; Grant's Already Offering Instalments

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Changing home budget habits are pushing charge account and instalment buying into old strongholds of cash and carry.

Early next year J. C. Penney will test credit sales in a few of its 1,700 stores which have been strictly cash and carry since its founding in 1902.

W. T. Grant is putting an instalment credit plan into 86 new stores this year, bringing its entire chain of 699 into the plan. It tested the idea on a pilot basis in Atlanta, Ga., in 1946, and gradually extended it to other stores and regions.

Credit buying has increased everywhere since the war. Young persons in particular budget their income to fit instalment payments. Rising prices and merchandise upgrading have put many purchases out of the reach of the old cash and carry customer. The trend to larger families also spurs use of credit for mass outfitting.

So the cash and carry chains appealing to lower budget groups have found the department store charge account systems an increasing competition.

Officials of Grant's say their credit plan has been used by more than one million customers. Last year 33½ million dollars worth of merchandise, or 8.8 per cent of total sales, were charged.

Penney's hasn't decided yet which type of credit plan to use or where the tests will be made.

The Grant plan differs sharply from the old fashioned charge account because the customer pays a prefixed sum at regular intervals regardless of the size of purchases from time to time.

It works this way: each store runs its own system under the inspection of the five regional supervisors. A store official studies the applicant's income prospects, buying needs and reputation for paying much as any credit manager does.

Then one of several size coupon books is issued, the coupons ranging from 25 cents to $5, say, so that the store clerk can tear out the necessary amount at time of the purchase of goods.

The customer pays a fixed sum either each week or each month, until the entire book is paid for, rather than having the entire charge of the purchase coming due the first of the month as with a regular charge account.

When the book is used up the customer can go back for another even if he has further payments to make. His income prospects are reviewed to see if he can afford further credit. This helps the store hold down the delinquency rate and helps keep the customer from going beyond his depth.

The service charge varies with the rate of repayment but averages around 10 per cent. Officials explain that this way there is no general rise of prices to meet the credit plan costs, and so the cash customer isn't penalized.

The big demand for credit comes in three spurts — Christmas, Easter, and when families are being fitted out as a group for school and winter.

Delinquencies have been low, Grant officials say. Strikes and layoffs have hit stores in some areas, but most customers arrange for smaller payments for a time and try to pay up arrears quickly when on the payroll again.

One store cites a customer who kept up his payment after being sent to prison. He said he wanted to protect his good name.

Potential U. S. Scientists Claimed 'Dying on the Vine'

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

Educators and scientists cite numerous reasons:

Science and mathematics courses are not stressed enough in schools.

Mathematics is a cornerstone of science, but many youngsters think of algebra as a horrid word. Arithmetic often is taughtboringly.

"Any good student is irked to death by the memorization and formulas and routineness with which science is taught these days," sayd Dr. R. W. Lefler, professor of physics and education at Purdue University.

We suffer a shortage of high school science teachers. Teachers' salaries generally "are a national disgrace and evidence of public indifference toward learning," declares Dr. B. D. Thomas, director of the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio.

Numerous teen-agers, a Purdue survey finds, regard scientists as wicked, as longhairs or squares, as unable or incapable of living a normal life, or of enjoying life.

Many bright students can't afford college.

High school and college students often avoid science because they see higher pay and rewards going to careers in selling, advertising, medicine, business, entertainment and other fields.

Some scientists make very good incomes. Some are notoriously underpaid, especially in teaching and basic research, and especially by standards of their contributions to human welfare and progress.

Half of U.S. scientists made less than $6,525 annually in 1954 and 1955, the National Science Foundation reports from a questionnaire of 50,000 men and women.

Median salaries — meaning that half made more, and half made less—were: physicists, $7,275; geologists, $7,250; mathematicians, $6,300; biologists, $6,275; meteorologists $6,050; astronomers $5,950, and psychologists, $5,850.

Jobs in industry generally pay higher.

The American Chemical Society reports starting median salaries this year range from $8,100 for Ph.Ds in chemical enginering and $7,800 for Ph.Ds in chemistry to $5,500 and $5,200 for those with bachelor degrees in chemical engineering and chemistry respectively.

These averages cover both industry and teaching, but the society said that Ph.Ds going into industry averaged 38 per cent higher paychecks than those going into teaching.

BELLA DONNAS

The Bella Donnas 4-H Club elected officers at their Monday evening meeting held at the Eber school. Karen Carman was elected president; Barbara Carman, vice president; Barbara Olinger, secretary; Wanda Cook, treasurer; Jennifer Mason, song leader; Teddy and Pamela Craig, health leaders; Mary Massie, safety leader; Marsha Craig, Kay Sexton and Cynthia Warner, recreation committeemen, and Linda Miller, news reporter.

Mansfield Loses Link To Blue Cross

CLEVELAND (AP) — A dispute over the cost of caring for patients has resulted in Peoples Hospital of Mansfield being dropped by the Blue Cross organization here.

James A. Berne, associate director of the hospitalization plan here, said Wednesday a semi-annual audit of the Mansfield hospital's books showed a per diem cost about $5 lower than the amount charged.

But David J. Davies, vice president and manager of Peoples Hospital, said:

Terming the Blue Cross action regrettable, Davies said: "We just can't go on operating at a loss."

The hospital administrator said Peoples is "in the same position as a number of other hospitals. Blue Cross has just taken on more than it can handle."

He said Blue Cross apparently has decided to drop the hospital rather than increase its charges to policyholders.

The actual cost, said Davies, is $16.58 per day per patient. The Blue Cross audit determined the daily rates should be $13.64 under one arrangement or $13.78 under another, he said.

The hospital will not suffer financially, Davies said. About 27 per cent of the patients at the 110-bed hospital use the Blue Cross plan, he said.

Berne said it was the first time Blue Cross here has taken action in such a case since the program was started here in 1934. Blue Cross contracts cover 58 hospitals in northeastern Ohio.

Higher Meat Prices Help Turkey Sales

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thanksgiving Day is still a week off but the turkey which symbolizes the holiday for most folks already has taken over the supermarket spotlight.

Many stores are featuring the bird in their advertisements at prices that will hold through next Wednesday.

Although prices naturally vary from section to section, for comparative purposes it might be noted that one major chain was offering 10 to 16-pound hen turkeys at 41 cents a pound, oven-ready, and 18 to 24 pound tom turkeys at 37 cents a pound, oven-ready, in the New York metropolitan area.

Higher prices for some other meats also acted as a lever on shoppers to buy turkeys. Frying chickens were two to six cents a pound higher in many sections this week, while prokchops were up in the same range in a smaller number of places. Eggs, too, are higher again but only by a cent or two.

Outstanding vegetable buys are lettuce, endive, escarole, egg plant and radishes. In the good buy column are cucumbers, peppers and such vegetables from nearby fields as cauliflower, brussels sprouts, cabbage, potatoes and onions. The last two—Thanksgiving Day staples in many homes—are augmented by good supplies of sweet potatoes and Idaho baked potatoes.

Cash-Carry Stores Study Charge Plans

Penney To Test Credit Deal; Grant's Already Offering Instalments

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Changing home budget habits are pushing charge account and instalment buying into old strongholds of cash and carry.

Early next year J. C. Penney will test credit sales in a few of its 1,700 stores which have been strictly cash and carry since its founding in 1902.

W. T. Grant is putting an instalment credit plan into 86 new stores this year, bringing its entire chain of 699 into the plan. It tested the idea on a pilot basis in Atlanta, Ga., in 1946, and gradually extended it to other stores and regions.

Credit buying has increased everywhere since the war. Young persons in particular budget their income to fit instalment payments. Rising prices and merchandise upgrading have put many purchases out of the reach of the old cash and carry customer. The trend to larger families also spurs use of credit for mass outfitting.

So the cash and carry chains appealing to lower budget groups have found the department store charge account systems an increasing competition.

Officials of Grant's say their credit plan has been used by more than one million customers. Last year 33½ million dollars worth of merchandise, or 8.8 per cent of total sales, were charged.

Penney's hasn't decided yet which type of credit plan to use or where the tests will be made.

The Grant plan differs sharply from the old fashioned charge account because the customer pays a prefixed sum at regular intervals regardless of the size of purchases from time to time.

It works this way: each store runs its own system under the inspection of the five regional supervisors. A store official studies the applicant's income prospects, buying needs and reputation for paying much as any credit manager does.

Then one of several size coupon books is issued, the coupons ranging from 25 cents to $5, say, so that the store clerk can tear out the necessary amount at time of the purchase of goods.

The customer pays a fixed sum either each week or each month, until the entire book is paid for, rather than having the entire charge of the purchase coming due the first of the month as with a regular charge account.

When the book is used up the customer can go back for another even if he has further payments to make. His income prospects are reviewed to see if he can afford further credit. This helps the store hold down the delinquency rate and helps keep the customer from going beyond his depth.

The service charge varies with the rate of repayment but averages around 10 per cent. Officials explain that this way there is no general rise of prices to meet the credit plan costs, and so the cash customer isn't penalized.

The big demand for credit comes in three spurts — Christmas, Easter, and when families are being fitted out as a group for school and winter.

Delinquencies have been low, Grant officials say. Strikes and layoffs have hit stores in some areas, but most customers arrange for smaller payments for a time and try to pay up arrears quickly when on the payroll again.

One store cites a customer who kept up his payment after being sent to prison. He said he wanted to protect his good name.

N&W Train Kills Pair

IRONTON (AP)—Dennis Murphy, 50, of Ashland, Ky., and William Douglas Kazee, of Cleveland, were killed Wednesday when struck by a Norfolk & Western train at Coal Grove, four miles east of here.

There are more than 20 million bicycle riders in the United States.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

Educators and scientists cite numerous reasons:

Science and mathematics courses are not stressed enough in schools.

Mathematics is a cornerstone of science, but many youngsters think of algebra as a horrid word. Arithmetic often is taughtboringly.

"Any good student is irked to death by the memorization and formulas and routineness with which science is taught these days," sayd Dr. R. W. Lefler, professor of physics and education at Purdue University.

We suffer a shortage of high school science teachers. Teachers' salaries generally "are a national disgrace and evidence of public indifference toward learning," declares Dr. B. D. Thomas, director of the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio.

Numerous teen-agers, a Purdue survey finds, regard scientists as wicked, as longhairs or squares, as unable or incapable of living a normal life,or of enjoying life.

Many bright students can't afford college.

High school and college students often avoid science because they see higher pay and rewards going to careers in selling, advertising, medicine, business, entertainment and other fields.

Some scientists make very good incomes. Some are notoriously underpaid, especially in teaching and basic research, and especially by standards of their contributions to human welfare and progress.

Half of U.S. scientists made less than $6,525 annually in 1954 and 1955, the National Science Foundation reports from a questionnaire of 50,000 men and women.

Median salaries — meaning that half made more, and half made less—were: physicists, $7,275; geologists, $7,250; mathematicians, $6,300; biologists, $6,275; meteorologists $6,050; astronomers $5,950, and psychologists, $5,850.

Jobs in industry generally pay higher.

The American Chemical Society reports starting median salaries this year range from $8,100 for Ph Ds in chemical enginering and $7,800 for Ph.Ds in chemistry to $5,500 and $5,200 for those with bachelor degrees in chemical engineering and chemistry respectively.

These averages cover both industry and teaching, but the society said that Ph.Ds going into industry averaged 38 per cent higher paychecks than those going into teaching.

Mansfield Loses Link To Blue Cross

CLEVELAND (AP) — A dispute over the cost of caring for patients has resulted in Peoples Hospital of Mansfield being dropped by the Blue Cross organization here.

James A. Berne, associate director of the hospitalization plan here, said Wednesday a semi-annual audit of the Mansfield hospital's books showed a per diem cost about $5 lower than the amount charged.

But David J. Davies, vice president and manager of Peoples Hospital, said:

Terming the Blue Cross action regrettable, Davies said: "We just can't go on operating at a loss."

The hospital administrator said Peoples is "in the same position as a number of other hospitals. Blue Cross has just taken on more than it can handle."

He said Blue Cross apparently has decided to drop the hospital rather than increase its charges to policyholders.

The actual cost, said Davies, is $16.58 per day per patient. The Blue Cross audit determined the daily rates should be $13.64 under one arrangement or $13.78 under another, he said.

The hospital will not suffer financially, Davies said. About 27 per cent of the patients at the 110-bed hospital use the Blue Cross plan, he said.

Berne said it was the first time Blue Cross here has taken action in such a case since the program was started here in 1934. Blue Cross contracts cover 58 hospitals in northeastern Ohio.

Investment Clubs--Fun Plus Possible Profit

There's a new club on the American scene which threatens to displace these traditional gathering places in the affections of millions of citizens.

It's the investment club, and ingenious device for fun and profit at the same time. It costs very little to inaugurate, and a few dollars in the till each month assured a healthy growth. Doubt it? Then listen.

Ten people get together and decide to contribute $10 each month to buy stocks. These ordinary Joes and Janes usually don't know a stock certificate from a Confederate dollar bill, but they're willing to learn.

They elect a president, secretary and treasurer and begin seriously studying the stock market. Usually a reputable broker or investment counsellor is called in for advice. The fledgling investment club takes wing.

* * *

SPENCER GREAN, one of the leading investment counsellors in the nation, advises many an investment club and discovered that people become quickly absorbed in the peculiar language of the financial world. "Most of the members of the clubs I assist now look at the stock market prices before they turn to the football scores," asserts Grean.

All types of good citizens are forming clubs. A group of Chinese businessmen in New York avidly discuss the market over heaping dishes of lobster, Cantonese style.

A bunch of housewives in Houston organized a club under the name of We Knead Dough.

A group of airline pilots for one of the transcontinental airlines formed a club and now ask their control towers for the latest stock prices while winging over the country.

Clubs can be very successful. Twelve men started an investment club in Detroit in 1941. At $10 a month, they have invested $26,642 to date. From dividends and sale of stocks, they earned $34,481, which they plowed into more stocks.

* * *

IN RECENT YEARS, members of this club have withdrawn $22,270 in cash, almost as much as the total put in. And the stock the club currently owns is worth $90,000. Nice work for a bunch of amateurs.

Such success is bound to become popular. With increased leisure time and with more money jangling in the pocket, investment clubs were almost inevitable.

Today, Grean estimates that there are 15,000 clubs in the nation, with almost 20 per cent composed of women.

The ladies, who supposedly are far too occupied with domestic chores to worry their pretty little heads about such obtuse shennanigans as splits, spin-offs, debentures, etc., do pretty well at investing.

* * *

ONE ORGANIZATION called the Fifty-Four Club, after the year of its founding, is composed exclusively of the distaff side. They started by investing in the "blue-chips" which promised secure, but unspectacular yields.

Over a drink one evening, the gals, made up of school teachers, librarians, an artist and a dental assistant, discussed the possibility of branching out by purchasing stock with more of a growth potential.

They assigned their finance committee to look into the matter and after due deliberation, the three-woman committee decided on U. S. Vitamin corporation.

They were right. They brought U. S. Vitamin at $13 a share, and soon sales of this growth company were growing right into the stratosphere. Making like security analysts, the women sold their stock at $35 a share. It beats playing bridge—anytime.

Grean cautions, however, that "killings" via the investment club are few and far between. Many a club member, as a matter of fact, joins a club primarily to get a financial education in a relatively painless way.

* * *

A PROFESSIONAL counsellor like Spencer Grean, who charges a respectable fee to private individuals for his financial advice, helps investment clubs for only nominal charges.

"It's good business," reasons Grean. "A member of an investment club usually becomes so interested in the stock market, he wants to invest on his own.

"The whole financial community is embracing the investment club with open arms,' continues Grean. The New York Stock Exchange has prepared booklets giving detailed information on how to start an investment club.

Grean makes many speeches before fraternal groups, women's clubs, etc., discussing the concept of the investment club. Stock brokers are usually delighted when representatives of the clubs call and ask for specific information on certain stocks.

Care and caution are usually the watchwords of investment clubs. Grean never tires of telling the clubs he advises that a "bull can make money in the market and a bear can make money. But a hog never can."

Spencer Grean, New York investment counsellor, discusses gyrations of the stock market with Iris Forest, young Broadway actress who has formed an investment club for friends among fellow showgirls.

Here Are More News Briefs From Midwest Grid Camps

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest football briefs:

Ohio State—Halfback Don Clark is expected to be ready for the Michigan game. Clark suffered a muscle cramp in Monday's drills but was back taking running exercises Tuesday.

Michigan — Coach Bennie Oosterbaan called the first secret practice in several seasons. The Wolverines scrimmaged both offensively and defensively. There will be secret practices the rest of the week.

Michigan State—The Spartans' No. 1 rating in the AP poll is pleasing to coach Duffy Daugherty. "It confirms my opinion that this is the best team I've ever coached," he said.

Iowa — The Hawkeyes were forced to workout indoors again because of the season's heavy snowfall. The second team scrimmaged against members of the fourth and fifth teams while the rest of the squad ran through a dummy scrimmage.

Wisconsin — The Badgers also worked indoors because of the weather and emphasized passing. Coach Milt Bruhn expects his squad to be at full strength for the Minnesota game.

Purdue—The Boilermakers held closed drills and announced the team is in top physical condition except for No. 2 center Sam Joyner who is hobbled by an ankle injury.

Indiana—Coach Hicks watched the Hoosiers drill and said "These kids can do it." Indiana has a 1-7 record.

Northwestern — The Wildcats went through a long, hard drill on defense and drilled against Illinois pass patterns. The team also ran its own plays against anticipated Illini defensive formations.

Notre Dame—Quarterbacks Bob Williams and George Izo worked on passing. The Irish also practiced tackling. Senior center Frank Kuchta will start against Iowa.

Marquette — The Warriors worked for an hour and a half on a frozen field in preparing for Arizona. Coach Johnny Druze put the squad through a rugged contact session and then switched to defending against passes.

Tiger Pilot Sees Hope in 13-Man Swap

DETROIT (AP)—"They're all nice fellows and I hate to see them go But we never did much while they were here. We're going to go places and you can't go any place standing still."

Manager Jack Tighe made that comment, discussing the 13-player deal made Wednesday by the Detroit Tigers and the Kansas City Athletics.

General Manager John J. McHale says he is ready to make more trades. The Tigers would like to get back Vic Wertz, the heavy-hitting first baseman whom they traded to the old St. Louis Browns in 1952.

In the latest trade, the Tigers lost Bill Tuttle, Frank House, Duke Maas, Jim Small and John Tsitouris and two minor league players to be named later. They received Billy Martin, Gus Zernial, Maury McDermott, Lou Skizas, Tom Morgan and Tim Thompson.

People around Detroit feel the Tigers got the better of the deal. Tighe said, "We did real well."

The five Tigers named in the deal average 24½ years in age. The six players coming to Detroit have an average age of 29½. The Tigers elected not to hesitate, hope and wait two or three years for players who might become frontline major leaguers.

Notre Dame Center Gets Lineman Honor

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A bench warmer was the role that senior center Frank Kuchta emerged from to spearhead a stunning 7-0 Notre Dame upset of Oklahoma and win Associated Press Lineman of the Week honors.

For his terrific offensive and defensive play that shattered Oklahoma's 47-game winning skein, Kuchta gained the nod from the weekly AP poll of sports writers.

Kuchta, whose home is in Cleveland, said he was "tremendously excited" over his selection.

"Why, I haven't played a whole game or a major part of it for some time. I understand I played about 45 minutes in my first starting assignment all year last Saturday," he asserted.

5 Pounds of Opium Missing from Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police today were investigating the disappearance of five pounds of opium from the court of Superior Judge Walter Carpeneti where it was to be evidence for a trial.

The opium—worth $5,000 on the illegal market and contained in two paper bags—vanished.

Gola, Guerin Playing Again On Pro Courts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The return to action of Richie Guerin and Tom Gola, two excellent backcourt men, is certain to add new life to the competition in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

But, while Guerin's comeback has apparently sparked the New York Knickerbockers, Gola's presence in the Philadelphia lineup hasn't kept the Warriors from tumbling down the standings.

Wednesday night, Guerin scored five points in the last 26 seconds to pace the Knicks to a 105-101 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers. Richie, who played only his second game since recovering from a thumb fracture sustained in a preseason encounter, tossed in 22 points—high for both clubs.

Meanwhile, Gola, a three-time All-America, made his first appearance for the Warriors since April, 1956. The former LaSalle ace is on terminal leave from the Army.

Although Gola pitched in 14 points, the Warriors dropped their fourth straight game, 99-89 to the Cincinnati Royals. Big Clyde Lovellette scored 30 points for the Royals, who overcame a seven point halftime deficit.

The results moved Cincinnati into a second place deadlock with Detroit in the Western Division and dropped Philadelphia into third place in the Eastern. New York and Minneapolis continue to occupy the division cellars.

Tiger Pilot Sees Hope in 13-Man Swap

DETROIT (AP)—"They're all nice fellows and I hate to see them go But we never did much while they were here. We're going to go places and you can't go any place standing still."

Manager Jack Tighe made that comment, discussing the 13-player deal made Wednesday by the Detroit Tigers and the Kansas City Athletics.

General Manager John J. McHale says he is ready to make more trades. The Tigers would like to get back Vic Wertz, the heavy-hitting first baseman whom they traded to the old St. Louis Browns in 1952.

In the latest trade, the Tigers lost Bill Tuttle, Frank House, Duke Maas, Jim Small and John Tsitouris and two minor league players to be named later. They received Billy Martin, Gus Zernial, Maury McDermott, Lou Skizas, Tom Morgan and Tim Thompson.

People around Detroit feel the Tigers got the better of the deal. Tighe said, "We did real well."

The five Tigers named in the deal average 24½ years in age. The six players coming to Detroit have an average age of 29½. The Tigers elected not to hesitate, hope and wait two or three years for players who might become frontline major leaguers.

Notre Dame Center Gets Lineman Honor

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A bench warmer was the role that senior center Frank Kuchta emerged from to spearhead a stunning 7-0 Notre Dame upset of Oklahoma and win Associated Press Lineman of the Week honors.

For his terrific offensive and defensive play that shattered Oklahoma's 47-game winning skein, Kuchta gained the nod from the weekly AP poll of sports writers.

Kuchta, whose home is in Cleveland, said he was "tremendously excited" over his selection.

"Why, I haven't played a whole game or a major part of it for some time. I understand I played about 45 minutes in my first starting assignment all year last Saturday," he asserted.

5 Pounds of Opium Missing from Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police today were investigating the disappearance of five pounds of opium from the court of Superior Judge Walter Carpeneti where it was to be evidence for a trial.

The opium—worth $5,000 on the illegal market and contained in two paper bags—vanished.

Gola, Guerin Playing Again On Pro Courts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The return to action of Richie Guerin and Tom Gola, two excellent backcourt men, is certain to add new life to the competition in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

But, while Guerin's comeback has apparently sparked the New York Knickerbockers, Gola's presence in the Philadelphia lineup hasn't kept the Warriors from tumbling down the standings.

Wednesday night, Guerin scored five points in the last 26 seconds to pace the Knicks to a 105-101 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers. Richie, who played only his second game since recovering from a thumb fracture sustained in a preseason encounter, tossed in 22 points—high for both clubs.

Meanwhile, Gola, a three-time All-America, made his first appearance for the Warriors since April, 1956. The former LaSalle ace is on terminal leave from the Army.

Although Gola pitched in 14 points, the Warriors dropped their fourth straight game, 99-89 to the Cincinnati Royals. Big Clyde Lovellette scored 30 points for the Royals, who overcame a seven point halftime deficit.

The results moved Cincinnati into a second place deadlock with Detroit in the Western Division and dropped Philadelphia into third place in the Eastern. New York and Minneapolis continue to occupy the division cellars.

Midwest Grid Expert Says Bucks To Lose

Prognosticator Also Tags Notre Dame for Defeat by Iowa '11'

By JERRY LISKA
Midwest AP Sports Editor

Iowa 14, Notre Dame 7—On the theory that the Hawkeyes, burning after "squandering" the Big Ten title to Ohio State, will make the fur fly in their season finale. The Irish got a tremendous lift from snapping Oklahoma's 47-game winning streak, but now they're back where football life is real. Notre Dame still has two games after Iowa, against Southern California and Southern Methodist.

Michigan 14, Ohio State 13—With or without Don Clark, the Buckeyes will be sand-bagged on their way back from the bank. The only other conference game Ohio State played away from the encouraging roar of the home folk was at Wisconsin. The Bucks had trouble nipping the Badgers, 16-13. This time, the mob will be howling for the Wolverines. Michigan's Jim Pace and Clark could hook up in a dazzling ball-carrying duel. The Wolves know about Bob White.

Wisconsin 19, Minnesota 13—The Badgers have plenty of speed, something that has bothered the Gophers all year. Minnesota bowed to Michigan State 42-13 last week. Three weeks ago, the Badgers lost to MSU 21-7. Last week, Wisconsin thumped Illinois 24-13. It was Illinois, on Oct. 19, which started the Gophers reeling, 34-13.

Illinois 21, Northwestern 14—The Wildcats will desperately attempt to avert their ninth straight defeat and a winless season. However, Illinois has been able to move the ball with ease despite an erratic campaign.

Purdue 20, Indiana 7—The Boilermakers hold the season's only decision over the No. 1 team in the AP poll, Michigan State. This is the traditional Old Oaken Bucket rivalry in which the form sheet usually gets torn to shreds. But unless the Hoosiers show up with brass knuckles and bear traps, Purdue grabs the moss-covered pail.

Michigan State 40, Kansas State 12—The Spartans will be out to wrap up their No. 1 rating in the AP standings. MSU isn't happy about its six-game Big Ten schedule compared with Ohio State's seven-game card. The Bucks, who did not play MSU, have the conference crown and Rose Bowl bid even if Michigan spills them Saturday.

Marquette 14, Arizona 6—The Warriors snap their 19-game losing streak in a battle of have-nots. Both teams are winless this season, Marquette with an 0-9 mark and Arizona with 0-7-1.

Looking ahead:

Nov. 30—Notre Dame 19, Southern California 7 — The Trojans ain't what they used to be.

Dec. 7—Notre Dame 20, Southern Methodist 20 (tie)—This game is at Dallas where the temperature and scoring will be high.

Rose Bowl—Ohio State 38, Oregon 14—The Buckeyes say Happy New Year with touchdowns.

Xavier Grid Pilot Not Proud of Mark

CINCINNATI (AP)—Harry (Mick) Connolly, Xavier University's football coach, said Wednesday night at a football banquet he isn't proud of his team's 5-5 record for 1957 but he added quickly that:

Big Ten Grid Statistical Titles Open

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten football championship has gone to Ohio State but major statistical titles still are to be decided in Saturday's finale.

Ohio State's Don Clark, withheld from the Iowa game last week with an injury, will face Michigan's Jim Pace for the scoring crown Saturday. The two halfbacks are tied for the lead with 48 points.

Clark also will have a chance to clinch rushing honors. He leads Wisconsin's fast-coming halfback star, Danny Lewis, 515 to 433 yards entering the final game. Pace also has a chance with 420 yards to his credit.

Michigan's Jim Van Pelt will bid for passing honors. He is rated second to Michigan State's Jim Ninowski who ended the Big Ten campaign with 29 hits in 48 tosses for 450 yards and 4 touchdowns. Van Pelt has 25 completions out of 53 attempts for 358 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Randy Duncan of Iowa, his conference season over, has clinched total offense honors with 747 yards — 695 from passing. His teammate, end Jim Gibbons, has caught 26 passes for a wide margin in that department.

Hayes Wants Bucks To Be Real 'Mean'

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes is a little worried about the Buckeyes' chaces against Michigan Saturday. He's distressed because his men are happy.

"Football isn't a happy game," the coach said. "You have to be mean, and that's the way I want my team on Saturday—mean."

O'Connell Clinches Job as Quarterback

CLEVELAND (AP)—It took a convincing performance but Tommy O'Connell has finally nailed down the job as quarterback of the Cleveland Browns.

O'Connell was almost the entire show against the Washington Redskins as the Browns came from behind to earn a 30-30 tie Sunday. The 5 foot 11 O'Connell threw 24 passes and completed 16, good for 324 yards, one TD.

O'Connell, who set Western Conference passing records as a star at Illinois, was one of six quarterbacks in camp when the Browns started training this fall.

Giants' Attendance Expected to Double

Ticket manager Pete Hoffman predicted today the attendance would hit 1,250,000 by the time the ex-New Yorkers finish their first season here. This year's final season in New York drew 653,000, Hoffman said.

Twenty-two of the season's first 25 games will be played at home. The only break will be a three-game set at Los Angeles at the tag end of the season's first week.

Last Place Circleville Tigers Dominate SCO All Star Squad

The Circleville squad, with only one victory to its credit this season, copped nine out of 22 berths on the SCO all-star team—more than any outher outfit in the league, including champion Greenfield.

Greenfield pulled a little consolation out of the voting at the league's fall meeting here. Seven of McLain's regulars made the team, and Greenfield's star quarterback, Otis Wagner, was named captain.

But Circleville took practically everything else. Second-place Wilmington won only three berths on the mythical squad, while Washington C. H. and Hillsboro got two apiece.

* * *

ACTUALLY, the third-place WHS Lions did a little better than the bare lineups show. They placed a number of boys in the honorable mention ranks—many of them just a shade below the winners.

And, possibly more significant, many of the Lion nominees were sophomores and juniors—boys who would often get secondary consideration to a senior of equal talent. The Lions also furnished the only freshmen—Fullback Gil Crouse and End Aaron Foster who got honorable mentions—to win any berth on the charmed list.

Washington C. H. boys named to the squad by the coaches were versatile Linebacker Jack Anders and defensive Guard Jim Wilson, both of them classy seniors.

Anders, at 198 pounds, was second heaviest boy on the squad, seven pounds under Wilmington's 205-pound tackle, Roger Reedy. Wilson, despite the fact that he weighs in at only 155, won his berth with a decisive 11 out of 15 votes.

* * *

BOTH WILSON and Anders came very ear to winning berths on the offensive squad as well—Wilson at guard, where competition was the toughest, and Anders at end, where the versatile lineman played only half the season.

Other Washington C. H. boys to win honorable mention slots were Sophomore Ron Carter, offensive and defensive tackle; Junior Jack Hamilton, offensive guard; Sophomore Buddy Lynch, quarterback; Senior Bill Herman, offensive halfback; Juni or Jack Crabtree, defensive tackle; and Sophomore Bob Huff, defensive linebacker.

Greenfield's Otis Wagner was named captain by virture of his capturing 14 out of a possible 15 ballots in quarterback voting. The shifty senior, who can pass, kick or carry, spelled a lot of trouble for Washington C. H. when the Lions lost to the championship Tigers, and McLain Athletic Director Paul Orr commented that "he certainly seems to be college material."

Voting was by the five head football coaches, on a three-choice basis, with five points going for first place, three for second and one for third.

IN OTHER business at the meeting, principals of the league schools (who hold the voting power for the league) agreed to standardize a six-minute period for reserve basketball, with two-minute intermissions, and named a committee of five to select standardized trophies for all sports.

Washington C. H. Athletic Director Fred Domenico was named head of the trophy committee. One representative was named from each of the other schools in the league.

Principals agreed to hold a meeting of their own in February for the purpose of "reexamining the structure" of league officialdom. Next regular meeting will be in the spring.

Representatives of Franklin Heights High School, which has joined the league but not yet started participation in major sports, were present.

Football Mothers To Meet Tonight

The mothers group is the counterpart of the Boosters Club, although it is on a much smaller and more limited basis.

The meetings were arranged by the WHS coaching staff after several mothers had expressed a desire to learn more about the sport so they could talk football with their husbands and sons at home and so they could better understand what their sons were doing on the gridiron.

The wives of the coaches will take the role of hostesses at tonight's meeting and the coaches, headed by Coach Fred Domenico, will explain some of the fine points of the game.

COON HUNTING WAS PRETTY GOOD Tuesday night a few miles north of Washington C. H. At least it was for Harold Cox, 724 Sycamore; D. R. Smith, Route 2, New Holland and Otis Locey, 313 Fountain Ave. The three men and their three dogs got six coons. One measured 36 inches from tip of nose to tip of tail. Two weighed 18 pounds each, two weighed 17 pounds each and the "small" ones each weighed 12 pounds. (Record-Herald photo)

2 Leading Ground-Gainers Eyed for All-America Tags

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Greene of Holy Cross and Lee Grosscup of Utah, statistically two of the leading ground-gainers in major college football, are among more than two dozen players under consideration for backfield positions on the 1957 All-America team.

The regional boards which have scrutinized the nation's leading teams throughout the season today listed the possibilities.

Greene and Grosscup, both T-formation quarterbacks, have registered most of their gains by passing. Greene has accounted for a total of 1,323 yards in eight games, Grosscup, 1,231 in nine.

Well-recommended backs in this category include John Crow, the Texas A&M bruiser who was listed on the All-America second team last season. Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State, Joe Francis of Oregon State and Bobby Jordan of Virginia Military Institute.

Also listed as standouts in their areas were Virginia fullback Jim Bakhtiar, Bob Anderson of Army, Bob Stransky of Colorado, Nick Piestrosante of Notre Dame and Bobby Mulgado of Arizona State.

In the East, Navy passer Tom Forrestal and Princeton's John Sapoch, an exceptional blocking back, were pressing Greene for quarterback honors. Grosscup's Utah teammate, Merrill Douglas, also was well recommended.

Gerald Nesbitt, Arkansas Fullback, was listed with Crow and Hill in the Southwest. Others were Ohio State's Don Clarke, Michigan's Jim Pace, Oklahoma's Clendon Thomas, Jimmy Jones of Washington, Jack Douglas of Stanford and Tom Flores of College of the Pacific.

Kid Gavilan Rusty, But Still Can Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Kid Gavilan is showing signs of rust but his fighting instinct still has polish.

The former welterweight champion, who at 31 wants to regain the title, craftily won a unanimous decision over Boston's Walt Byars Wednesday night in a 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium.

Midwest Grid Expert Says Bucks To Lose

Prognosticator Also Tags Notre Dame for Defeat by Iowa '11'

By JERRY LISKA
Midwest AP Sports Editor

Iowa 14, Notre Dame 7—On the theory that the Hawkeyes, burning after "squandering" the Big Ten title to Ohio State, will make the fur fly in their season finale. The Irish got a tremendous lift from snapping Oklahoma's 47-game winning streak, but now they're back where football life is real. Notre Dame still has two games after Iowa, against Southern California and Southern Methodist.

Michigan 14, Ohio State 13—With or without Don Clark, the Buckeyes will be sand-bagged on their way back from the bank. The only other conference game Ohio State played away from the encouraging roar of the home folk was at Wisconsin. The Bucks had trouble nipping the Badgers, 16-13. This time, the mob will be howling for the Wolverines. Michigan's Jim Pace and Clark could hook up in a dazzling ball-carrying duel. The Wolves know about Bob White.

Wisconsin 19, Minnesota 13—The Badgers have plenty of speed, something that has bothered the Gophers all year. Minnesota bowed to Michigan State 42-13 last week. Three weeks ago, the Badgers lost to MSU 21-7. Last week, Wisconsin thumped Illinois 24-13. It was Illinois, on Oct. 19, which started the Gophers reeling, 34-13.

Illinois 21, Northwestern 14—The Wildcats will desperately attempt to avert their ninth straight defeat and a winless season. However, Illinois has been able to move the ball with ease despite an erratic campaign.

Purdue 20, Indiana 7—The Boilermakers hold the season's only decision over the No. 1 team in the AP poll, Michigan State. This is the traditional Old Oaken Bucket rivalry in which the form sheet usually gets torn to shreds. But unless the Hoosiers show up with brass knuckles and bear traps, Purdue grabs the moss-covered pail.

Michigan State 40, Kansas State 12—The Spartans will be out to wrap up their No. 1 rating in the AP standings. MSU isn't happy about its six-game Big Ten schedule compared with Ohio State's seven-game card. The Bucks, who did not play MSU, have the conference crown and Rose Bowl bid even if Michigan spills them Saturday.

Marquette 14, Arizona 6—The Warriors snap their 19-game losing streak in a battle of have-nots. Both teams are winless this season, Marquette with an 0-9 mark and Arizona with 0-7-1.

Looking ahead:

Nov. 30—Notre Dame 19, Southern California 7 — The Trojans ain't what they used to be.

Dec. 7—Notre Dame 20, Southern Methodist 20 (tie)—This game is at Dallas where the temperature and scoring will be high.

Rose Bowl—Ohio State 38, Oregon 14—The Buckeyes say Happy New Year with touchdowns.

Xavier Grid Pilot Not Proud of Mark

CINCINNATI (AP)—Harry (Mick) Connolly, Xavier University's football coach, said Wednesday night at a football banquet he isn't proud of his team's 5-5 record for 1957 but he added quickly that:

"I'll tell you one thing, when a team finishes 5-5 it does more things right than wrong."

Big Ten Grid Statistical Titles Open

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten football championship has gone to Ohio State but major statistical titles still are to be decided in Saturday's finale.

Ohio State's Don Clark, withheld from the Iowa game last week with an injury, will face Michigan's Jim Pace for the scoring crown Saturday. The two halfbacks are tied for the lead with 48 points.

Clark also will have a chance to clinch rushing honors. He leads Wisconsin's fast-coming halfback star, Danny Lewis, 515 to 433 yards entering the final game. Pace also has a chance with 420 yards to his credit.

Michigan's Jim Van Pelt will bid for passing honors. He is rated second to Michigan State's Jim Ninowski who ended the Big Ten campaign with 29 hits in 48 tosses for 450 yards and 4 touchdowns. Van Pelt has 25 completions out of 53 attempts for 358 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Randy Duncan of Iowa, his conference season over, has clinched total offense honors with 747 yards — 695 from passing. His teammate, end Jim Gibbons, has caught 26 passes for a wide margin in that department.

Hayes Wants Bucks To Be Real 'Mean'

"Football isn't a happy game," the coach said. "You have to be mean, and that's the way I want my team on Saturday—mean."

O'Connell Clinches Job as Quarterback

CLEVELAND (AP)—It took a convincing performance but Tommy O'Connell has finally nailed down the job as quarterback of the Cleveland Browns.

O'Connell was almost the entire show against the Washington Redskins as the Browns came from behind to earn a 30-30 tie Sunday. The 5 foot 11 O'Connell threw 24 passes and completed 16, good for 324 yards, one TD.

O'Connell, who set Western Conference passing records as a star at Illinois, was one of six quarterbacks in camp when the Browns started training this fall.

Giants' Attendance Expected to Double

Ticket manager Pete Hoffman predicted today the attendance would hit 1,250,000 by the time the ex-New Yorkers finish their first season here. This year's final season in New York drew 653,000, Hoffman said.

Twenty-two of the season's first 25 games will be played at home. The only break will be a three-game set at Los Angeles at the tag end of the season's first week.

Last Place Circleville Tigers Dominate SCO All Star Squad

Circleville's hapless football Tigers, last in the South Central Ohio League, finally gave the opposition its comeuppance Wednesday night.

The Circleville squad, with only one victory to its credit this season, copped nine out of 22 berths on the SCO all-star team—more than any outher outfit in the league, including champion Greenfield.

Greenfield pulled a little consolation out of the voting at the league's fall meeting here. Seven of McLain's regulars made the team, and Greenfield's star quarterback, Otis Wagner, was named captain.

But Circleville took practically everything else. Second-place Wilmington won only three berths on the mythical squad, while Washington C. H. and Hillsboro got two apiece.

• • •

ACTUALLY, the third-place WHS Lions did a little better than the bare lineups show. They placed a number of boys in the honorable mention ranks—many of them just a shade below the winners.

And, possibly more significant, many of the Lion nominees were sophomores and juniors—boys who would often get secondary consideration to a senior of equal talent. The Lions also furnished the only freshmen—Fullback Gil Crouse and End Aaron Foster who got honorable mentions—to win any berth on the charmed list.

Washington C. H. boys named to the squad by the coaches were versatile Linebacker Jack Anders and defensive Guard Jim Wilson, both of them classy seniors.

Anders, at 198 pounds, was second heaviest boy on the squad, seven pounds under Wilmington's 205-pound tackle, Roger Reedy. Wilson, despite the fact that he weighs in at only 155, won his berth with a decisive 11 out of 15 votes.

• • •

BOTH WILSON and Anders came very near to winning berths on the offensive squad as well—Wilson at guard, where competition was the toughest, and Anders at end, where the versatile lineman played only half the season.

Other Washington C. H. boys to win honorable mention slots were Sophomore Ron Carter, offensive and defensive tackle; Junior Jack Hamilton, offensive guard; Sophomore Buddy Lynch, quarterback; Senior Bill Herman, offensive halfback; Juni or Jack Crabtree, defensive tackle; and Sophomore Bob Huff, defensive linebacker.

Greenfield's Otis Wagner was named captain by virture of his capturing 14 out of a possible 15 ballots in quarterback voting. The shifty senior, who can pass, kick or carry, spelled a lot of trouble for Washington C. H. when the Lions lost to the championship Tigers, and McLain Athletic Director Paul Orr commented that "he certainly seems to be college material."

Voting was by the five head football coaches, on a three-choice basis, with five points going for first place, three for second and one for third.

IN OTHER business at the meeting, principals of the league schools (who hold the voting power for the league) agreed to standardize a six-minute period for reserve basketball, with two-minute intermissions, and named a committee of five to select standardized trophies for all sports.

Washington C. H. Athletic Director Fred Domenico was named head of the trophy committee. One representative was named from each of the other schools in the league.

The football championship was formally voted to Greenfield-Washington C. H. was named track champion and Circleville, baseball champion.

Principals agreed to hold a meeting of their own in February for the purpose of "reexamining the structure" of league officialdom. Next regular meeting will be in the spring.

Representatives of Franklin Heights High School, which has joined the league but not yet started participation in major sports, were present.

Football Mothers To Meet Tonight

Mothers of the WHS Lion football players will get together for the third and last time this season tonight at the field house at Gardner Park.

The mothers group is the counterpart of the Boosters Club, although it is on a much smaller and more limited basis.

The meetings were arranged by the WHS coaching staff after several mothers had expressed a desire to learn more about the sport so they could talk football with their husbands and sons at home and so they could better understand what their sons were doing on the gridiron.

The wives of the coaches will take the role of hostesses at tonight's meeting and the coaches, headed by Coach Fred Domenico, will explain some of the fine points of the game.

COON HUNTING WAS PRETTY GOOD Tuesday night a few miles north of Washington C. H. At least it was for Harold Cox, 724 Sycamore; D. R. Smith, Route 2, New Holland and Otis Locey, 313 Fountain Ave. The three men and their three dogs got six coons. One measured 36 inches from tip of nose to tip of tail. Two weighed 18 pounds each, two weighed 17 pounds each and the "small" ones each weighed 12 pounds. (Record-Herald photo)

2 Leading Ground-Gainers Eyed for All-America Tags

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Greene of Holy Cross and Lee Grosscup of Utah, statistically two of the leading ground-gainers in major college football, are among more than two dozen players under consideration for backfield positions on the 1957 All-America team.

The regional boards which have scrutinized the nation's leading teams throughout the season today listed the possibilities.

With two games still left on the schedule for many of the leading teams, the lists submitted this week may undergo radical changes.

Greene and Grosscup, both T-formation quarterbacks, have registered most of their gains by passing. Greene has accounted for a total of 1,323 yards in eight games, Grosscup, 1,231 in nine.

Well-recommended backs in this category include John Crow, the Texas A&M bruiser who was listed on the All-America second team last season. Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State, Joe Francis of Oregon State and Bobby Jordan of Virginia Military Institute.

Also listed as standouts in their areas were Virginia fullback Jim Bakhtiar, Bob Anderson of Army, Bob Stransky of Colorado, Nick Piestrosante of Notre Dame and Bobby Mulgado of Arizona State.

In the East, Navy passer Tom Forrestal and Princeton's John Sapoch, an exceptional blocking back, were pressing Greene for quarterback honors. Grosscup's Utah teammate, Merrill Douglas, also was well recommended.

Gerald Nesbitt, Arkansas Fullback, was listed with Crow and Hill in the Southwest. Others were Ohio State's Don Clarke, Michigan's Jim Pace, Oklahoma's Clendon Thomas, Jimmy Jones of Washington, Jack Douglas of Stanford and Tom Flores of College of the Pacific.

Kid Gavilan Rusty, But Still Can Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Kid Gavilan is showing signs of rust but his fighting instinct still has polish.

The former welterweight champion, who at 31 wants to regain the title, craftily won a unanimous decision over Boston's Walt Byars Wednesday night in a 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium.

Good Public Relations Said To Be Needed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The need for good public relations was never so great as it is today, says Reuben B. Robertson of Hamilton, Ohio, a former deputy defense secretary.

Robertson, president of the Champion Paper and Fibre Co. at Hamilton, addressed a conference of the Public Relations Society of America here Wednesday.

"There is a great need for your help," he told the delegates. "The American people must have the facts and information needed to help them express their opinions on a knowledgeable basis."

Because we live in an "insecure world," Robertson continued, "our defense and mutual security programs probably have as great an impact on the people in the United States, and throughout the free world, as any single factor in their existence. The vast expenditures required by our defense and mutual security have a significant effect on the economy of the U.S. and practically every nation in the free world."

He added:

"The problems and changes in defense and mutual security in the 10 years ahead will throw a heavy burden upon all communications media if we are going to have the degree of knowledge and understanding on the part of the American people and the people of the free world in meeting any challenge or crisis."

Cops Use Girl 'Decoy', Lose in Liquor Case

COLUMBUS (AP) — A Cleveland tavern operator has been cleared of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl police used as a "decoy" to buy liquor.

The State Supreme Court Wednesday upheld an Appellate Court reversal of the conviction of Theodore Miclau Jr.

"Where a minor enters a bar in the company and custody of policemen for the purpose of purchasing intoxicating liquor," the high court ruled, "there is obviously no delinquency."

Beating Brings Arrest

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Charges of first-degree murder have been filed against Winfred L. Jamison, 24, in the fatal robbery-beating of Frank Hribko of Niles. Hribko was found early Sunday in his car.

Whoopers Due For Honors

New Postage Stamp To Feature Cranes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. Post Office Department formally unveils its tribute to the whooping crane Friday while embattled protectors of the big bird still have something to whoop about.

But not much. There are only 31 whooping cranes alive today, and that is the most since 1950.

Last spring 21 wild whoopers started their perilous 2,000-mile journey from the Gulf Coast to the summer breeding ground in northwestern Canada.

By this week, 26—including four young birds—had returned to the Arkansas Refuge near Corpus Christi, Texas.

The captive population includes Rosie, a resident of the San Antonio zoo; Crip and Josephine, the pair that this year brought off a successful hatch of two chicks at the New Orleans zoo, and a couple of unidentified birds who decided the heck with traveling and stayed at Arkansas instead of flying north last spring. There was a third one in this group, but he passed away in the process of being caught as a bridegroom for Rosie.

IN GEISHA ROLE—Eiko Ando, 23, was chosen from among 150 girls in Tokyo, Japan, to play a Geisha girl in a forthcoming film, "Townsend Harris Story." Eiko was born in Manchuria, but went to Japan for a career. (International)

Good Public Relations Said To Be Needed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The need for good public relations was never so great as it is today, says Reuben B. Robertson of Hamilton, Ohio, a former deputy defense secretary.

Robertson, president of the Champion Paper and Fibre Co. at Hamilton, addressed a conference of the Public Relations Society of America here Wednesday.

"There is a great need for your help," he told the delegates. "The American people must have the facts and information needed to help them express their opinions on a knowledgeable basis."

Because we live in an "insecure world," Robertson continued, "our defense and mutual security programs probably have as great an impact on the people in the United States, and throughout the free world, as any single factor in their existence. The vast expenditures required by our defense and mutual security have a significant effect on the economy of the U.S. and practically every nation in the free world."

He added:

"The problems and changes in defense and mutual security in the 10 years ahead will throw a heavy burden upon all communications media if we are going to have the degree of knowledge and understanding on the part of the American people and the people of the free world in meeting any challenge or crisis."

Cops Use Girl 'Decoy', Lose in Liquor Case

COLUMBUS (AP) — A Cleveland tavern operator has been cleared of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl police used as a "decoy" to buy liquor.

The State Supreme Court Wednesday upheld an Appellate Court reversal of the conviction of Theodore Miclau Jr.

"Where a minor enters a bar in the company and custody of policemen for the purpose of purchasing intoxicating liquor," the high court ruled, "there is obviously no delinquency."

Beating Brings Arrest

Whoopers Due For Honors

New Postage Stamp To Feature Cranes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. Post Office Department formally unveils its tribute to the whooping crane Friday while embattled protectors of the big bird still have something to whoop about.

But not much. There are only 31 whooping cranes alive today, and that is the most since 1950.

Last spring 21 wild whoopers started their perilous 2,000-mile journey from the Gulf Coast to the summer breeding ground in northwestern Canada.

By this week, 26—including four young birds—had returned to the Arkansas Refuge near Corpus Christi, Texas.

The captive population includes Rosie, a resident of the San Antonio zoo; Crip and Josephine, the pair that this year brought off a successful hatch of two chicks at the New Orleans zoo, and a couple of unidentified birds who decided the heck with traveling and stayed at Arkansas instead of flying north last spring. There was a third one in this group, but he passed away in the process of being caught as a bridegroom for Rosie.

The Post Office Department's memorial is a three-cent item, fourth in a series of wildlife conservation stamps. It is a blue, green and yellow stamp showing a female whooper bending attentively over two downy youngsters while a male bird stands guard nearby.

Those who want what the stamp collectors call a first cover can mail self-addressed but unstamped envelopes, with remittances by money order, to the postmasters at New Orleans, Corpus Christi or New York.

Each of these offices will provide distinctive cancellations on the whooper stamps Nov. 22.

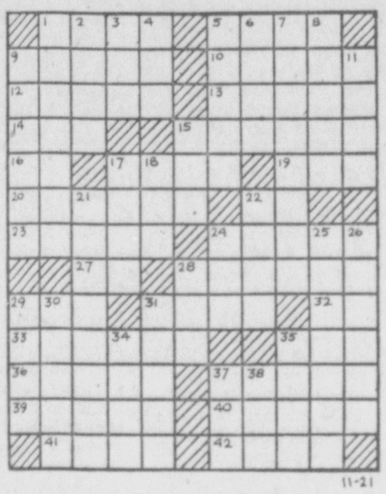
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

South Africans Going For Rock 'n' Roll Now

NEW YORK (AP)—Rock 'n' roll is taking over in South Africa, according to a Zulu disc jockey.

King Edward Masinga, 41, who conducts a daily Zulu language program in Durban, is in this country on a special State Department visa to discuss drama and broadcasting.

Masinga said his program in Durban features the old folk music, but that it is losing out to rock 'n' roll. Even the natives in the back country, he said, buy rock 'n' roll records.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

South Africans Going For Rock 'n' Roll Now

NEW YORK (AP)—Rock 'n' roll is taking over in South Africa, according to a Zulu disc jockey.

King Edward Masinga, 41, who conducts a daily Zulu language program in Durban, is in this country on a special State Department visa to discuss drama and broadcasting.

Masinga said his program in Durban features the old folk music, but that it is losing out to rock 'n' roll. Even the natives in the back country, he said, buy rock 'n' roll records.

Service Rivalry Blamed for U. S. Missile 'Lag'

House Prober Claims Real 'Opposition' Should Be Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), who contends the United States is "seriously behind" Russia in long-range missiles development, said today interservice rivalry is partly responsible.

"One of our stumbling blocks is and has been interservice rivalry," Mahon said as his House Appropriations subcommittee moved deeper into an inquiry on the status of the U. S. missiles program.

"There should be cooperation and the 'opposition' should be the Soviet Union," he added.

A related program — development of nuclear power to propel planes and missiles — was put under one-office direction.

Secretary of Defense McElroy, leading off the testimony Wednesday told newsmen afterward the U. S. missiles program is in "good shape." He mentioned in this connection three intermediate range weapons — the Air Force's Thor, the Army's Jupiter and the Navy's Polaris.

* * *

HOWEVER, Mahon disagreed sharply, saying "we have lagged behind the Russians in the intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) and we've got to come from behind and come abreast as soon as we can."

Agreeing with Mahon, Rep. Sykes (D-Fla) said he "would like to see some specific things that are being done to bring us abreast of the Russians."

However, a third member of the subcommittee, Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass), said, "Nobody knows what the Russians have. Most of these expressions of opinion are based on guesswork."

Mahon's statement that the United States is seriously behind the Soviet Union in developing an IRBM was challenged by William M. Holaday, the Defense Department's missiles boss. "I don't believe so," Holaday said after emerging from the hearing.

Holaday conceded that "based on what they (the Russians) said, maybe we are behind them" in developing an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

Intermediate range missiles are designed to reach targets up to 1,500 miles away. An intercontinental missile would travel 5,000 miles.

Mahon said it would be "a very helpful thing" if the missile program were taken away from the individual services and consolidated "up into the Defense Department."

Another critic of interservice rivalry is Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), who said that such pulling and hauling "suggests an alarming tendency to overlook the real competitor"—Russia.

Upper Paint Council Officers Elected

BLOOMINGBURG—Mrs. Orville Mickle, Route 1, has been named chairman of the Upper Paint Township advisory council of the Fayette County Farm Bureau.

Other officers selected are Mrs. Ada M. Rhoades, Route 1, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Denen and Mrs. Armel Hamilton, women's representatives and Pearl Rhoades, legislative represntative.

The Council, started in 1944, is one of more than 1530 in Ohio Advisory Councils, sponsored by the Farm Bureau, have an average of ten families that meet in each other's homes once a month. Councils say that neighborliness is brought back through council groups. Through discussion, Council members become well informed about questions effecting agriculture. Council discussions often result in community action.

Advisory Councils also help write policy for the large farm organization which represents more than 52,000 farm families in Ohio.

Sen. Lowell Fess Seeks Reelection

District Lawmaker Runs For 4th Term

Lowell Fess, Yellow Springs, announced today he will seek reelection to the seat in the Ohio Senate he has occupied for three terms.

Fess will be a candidate for the Fifth-Sixth senatorial district at the primary election next May. In the district are Fayette, Clinton, Ross, Highland and Greene counties.

Fess, 62, a son of the late U. S. Sen. Simeon D. Fess, announced he will seek a fourth term in a letter to chairmen to Republican committees in each county in the district.

Fess has been active in politics in his native Greene County and the state for 35 years. He has been mayor of Yellow Springs, a member of the Greene County Board of Elections, a member and past chairman of the Greene County Republican central and executive committees and served four terms in the Legislature's House of Representatives from Greene County before entering the Senate.

* * *

IN HIS announcement, Fess said he had been particularly interested in legislation relating to agriculture, conservation, war veterans, schools and welfare institutions. Among the committees on which he has served are those on finance, taxation, highways, organization of state government, military affairs, health, commerce and transportation. He is now chairman of the Senate's public utilities committee.

He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, American Legion, Forty and Eight, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Fish and Game Assn., War Vets Republican Club and the Masonic, Elks and Eagles lodges.

Married, he is the father of a daughter, Nancy, 26, and a son, Tommy, 21.

New Auto Plant Halves Tax Bills

AKRON (AP)—The placing of the new Chrysler Corp. stamping plant at nearby Twinsburg on the Summit County tax duplicate has resulted in a cut of nearly 50 per cent in real estate taxes for Twinsburg School District.

The tax rate for Twinsburg Township next year will be $20.46 per $1,000 of assessed evaluation compared with $39.23 this year; the village of Reminderville, $20.44 compared with $40.50, and the village of Twinsburg, $21.66 compared with $40.50.

The stamping plant was assessed at $10 million.

4-H Advisors Honored At Annual Banquet

Mrs. Walter Carman, Route 4, Washington C. H., was elected by the 4-H club advisors to serve as president of the Fayette County 4-H Council in 1958. She and other officers were chosen at the annual advisors' banquet Wednesday evening at the Country Club. Other members of the executive committee are Mrs. Joe Loudner and Robert Highfield, vice presidents; Mrs. Richard Craig, secretary and Rodney Acton, treasurer.

Robby Hagler, president of the Junior Leadership Club, paid tribute to the 72 advisors present. He told the advisors that "as 4-H club members, we look to you for guidance, direction and help. We are happy to have the chance to be in your club; most of all we are happy that you gave us a chance to be junior leaders. Every 4-H advisor here tonight likes people, more specifically every 4-H advisor likes young people. Your interest in young people makes you an important part of the community."

Hagler concluded by saying that "as a 4-H member I expect you to teach me about a better life. I challenge you to inspire me to greater tasks ahead."

He then called the roll of advisors present, by the number of years of service and each was presented a Certificate of Service. There were 22 first - year advisors, 13 second - year, 11 third - year, four fourth - year eight five-year, six six - year, two seven - year, one ten - year, two 11 - year, two 12 - year and one 13 - year at the meeting.

Ray Brandenburg introduced members of the Fair Board and announced Fair Board had purchased the present Fairground tract only a few hours before the meeting. He was optimistic in his outlook for the future of the Fayette County Fair.

Mrs. Frank Dill, retiring president, discussed Council's activities of the past year. She said that "one of the most important and interesting projects which the Council has been working on is "looking ahead with 4-H club work here in Fayette County." She also gave some facts and figures relative to the Fayette County 4-H club program.

On behalf of the Council, she invited all the advisors to attend the next Council meeting at 8 p. m. Dec. 9 in the Farm Bureau auditorium. She urged advisors to be present and assist the Council with analyses of the 4-H program.

Mrs. Reynold Slaughter Jr., chairman of the Councils awards committee, announced the following clubs as Fayette County Honor Clubs in 1957: Bella Donna, with Mrs. Richard Craig and Mrs. Walter Carman, advisors; Button 'N Batter, with Mrs. Ancel Creamer and Mrs. Leola McClaskie, advisors; Jeffettes, with Mrs. Reynold Slaughter Jr., and Mrs. John Ritenour, advisors; Jolly Jumpers, with Mrs. Harold Moats, Mrs. Elza Arnold, Mrs. Emery Lynch and Mrs. John Williams, advisors; Magic Makers, with Mrs. Billie Wilson and Mrs. William Clarke, advisors; The Pixies, with Mrs. Joe Loudner and Mrs. Tom Hodson advisors; Seam and Steamettes, with Mrs. Forest Fry and Mrs. Bess Seaman, advisors; Thimble Sisters, with Mrs. Charles Lucas, advisor; Scizzor Whizzors, with Mrs. Walter Hyer, advisor; Wilson Country Sisters, with Mrs. Frank Dill and Mrs. Richard Rankin, advisors; Marion Marvels, with Mrs. Robert Klever and Mrs. Gerald Stephenson, advisors.

Associated County Agent Phil Grover introduced members of the state Agricultural Extension Service from Columbus. Miss Dorothy Gorby, associate 4-H club leader; Tom Jenkins, acting supervisor, southwestern Ohio; and H. W. Harshfield, state 4-H club leader. Each responded with congratulations to the advisors.

The Rev. Sanford Linsey, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, London, was the closing speaker for the evening. He commented on the effect of 4-H club work and stressed the importance of agriculture in progress of each nation and civilization. The Rev. Mr. Lindsey talked about the similarities of land and religion in each individual's life.

Fayette County Junior Leadership Club planned and presented the recognition banquet. Miss Linda McClaskie served as toastmistress and extended a welcome to the 72 4-H advisors, 41 junior leaders and 47 Fair Board members, friends of 4-H and guests present.

Retiring Junior Leader President David Whiteside presented to County Agent W. W. Montgomery a gift of robe from the Junior Leadership Club for his 35 years of help and guidance to the Fayette County 4-H club program.

Art School Model Slows Workmen

LUTON, England (AP)—The Luton Art School hung a sheet across a studio window today to hide its nude model from steelworkers erecting a building next door.

"It wasn't so much that the model was embarrassed," said C. L. Skinner, head of the school, "but we got so many complaints from the foreman of the building."

The new building had risen steadily until it reached the level on which pretty Adele Mavis was posing in the raw. After that it rose no higher, and the workmen spent most of their time on the side next to the art school. The foreman investigated, saw Adele and appealed to Skinner.

Educators Eye Plan To Free 'Indifferent' School Pupils

COLUMBUS (AP)—Pupils 16 years of age or older who are indifferent to their studies could be excused from school under a recommendation that will be made at the Ohio Education Assn. convention here Ohio's compulsory school law would have to be revised.

Ohio law now requires compulsory attendance of all children until they become 18. The recommendation will be made Friday by the OEA's Education Council. The OEA's three-day convention opened today.

The recommendation is expected to touch off a debate between advocates of an outright reduction of the compulsory attendance age and those who favor the council's recommendation for "selective" measures.

The council report states that outright reduction in the compulsory attendance age "would permit many capable students to drop out" of school. The council will recommend not lowering the attendance age despite a recent survey of educators and juvenile workers that indicated nearly half of them favored lowering the attendance age to 16.

* * *

THE COUNCIL also will recommend sponsoring legislation to create "certificates of attendance" for students who have completed the necessary years of school attendance but who are not fully qualified scholastically to receive a diploma.

At an evening session today the OEA Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards will submit for approval a revised code of ethics. If adopted, it will give the OEA greater control over member conduct.

The revised code would change the recommended standards of the present code to minimum standards which members would be expected to meet. A spokesman explained that the wording of the present code, adopted in 1950, casts the standards in the form of goals which teachers should strive to attain, making any enforcement of standards almost impossible.

Linked with the new code will be a proposed constitutional amendment which would give the OEA authority to expel members guilty of "flagrant or continued violation of recognized professional standards."

Third Grade Class Visits Library Here

Thirty-five members of Miss Jean King's third grade class at Central School visited the Carnegie Public Library Wednesday as a part of the nationwide observation of this week as "Children's Book Week."

Mrs. Florence Cook, acting librarian, explained how the library here got its start and that it was currently supported by all taxpayers of the city and the county. "Thus," Mrs. Cook said, "this library building and all the books around you are literally owned by your parents All our facilities are at your command—it belongs to you and your parents."

Mrs. Cook also explained the arrangement of books throughout the library, the proper way to handle books and the courtesy and manners expected of a good library patron.

Theme of this year's nationwide Children's Book Week is "Explore with Books." The library distributed posters and more than 3,000 bookmarks to all school children in the Miami Trace system and has an adequate supply of bookmarks in the library for any city child wishing one.

Upper Paint Council Officers Elected

BLOOMINGBURG—Mrs. Orville Mickle, Route 1, has been named chairman of the Upper Paint Township advisory council of the Fayette County Farm Bureau.

Other officers selected are Mrs. Ada M. Rhoades, Route 1, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Denen and Mrs. Armel Hamilton, women's representatives and Pearl Rhoades, legislative represntative.

A different discussion leader will be appointed each month throughout the year.

The Council, started in 1944, is one of more than 1530 in Ohio Advisory Councils, sponsored by the Farm Bureau, have an average of ten families that meet in each other's homes once a month. Councils say that neighborliness is brought back through council groups. Through discussion, Council members become well informed about questions effecting agriculture. Council discussions often result in community action.

Advisory Councils also help write policy for the large farm organization which represents more than 52,000 farm families in Ohio.

Sen. Lowell Fess Seeks Reelection

District Lawmaker Runs For 4th Term

Lowell Fess, Yellow Springs, announced today he will seek reelection to the seat in the Ohio Senate he has occupied for three terms.

Fess will be a candidate for the Fifth-Sixth senatorial district at the primary election next May. In the district are Fayette, Clinton, Ross, Highland and Greene counties.

Fess, 62, a son of the late U. S. Sen. Simeon D. Fess, announced he will seek a fourth term in a letter to chairmen to Republican committees in each county in the district.

Fess has been active in politics in his native Greene County and the state for 35 years. He has been mayor of Yellow Springs, a member of the Greene County Board of Elections, a member and past chairman of the Greene County Republican central and executive committees and served four terms in the Legislature's House of Representatives from Greene County before entering the Senate.

IN HIS announcement, Fess said he had been particularly interested in legislation relating to agriculture, conservation, war veterans, schools and welfare institutions. Among the committees on which he has served are those on finance, taxation, highways, organization of state government, military affairs, health, commerce and transportation. He is now chairman of the Senate's public utilities committee.

He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, American Legion, Forty and Eight, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Fish and Game Assn., War Vets Republican Club and the Masonic, Elks and Eagles lodges.

Married, he is the father of a daughter, Nancy, 26, and a son, Tommy, 21.

New Auto Plant Halves Tax Bills

AKRON (AP)—The placing of the new Chrysler Corp. stamping plant at nearby Twinsburg on the Summit County tax duplicate has resulted in a cut of nearly 50 per cent in real estate taxes for Twinsburg School District.

The tax rate for Twinsburg Township next year will be $20.46 per $1,000 of assessed evaluation compared with $39.23 this year; the village of Reminderville, $20.44 compared with $40.50, and the village of Twinsburg, $21.66 compared with $40.50.

The stamping plant was assessed at $10 million.

4-H Advisors Honored At Annual Banquet

Mrs. Walter Carman, Route 4, Washington C. H., was elected by the 4-H club advisors to serve as president of the Fayette County 4-H Council in 1958. She and other officers were chosen at the annual advisors' banquet Wednesday evening at the Country Club. Other members of the executive committee are Mrs. Joe Loudner and Robert Highfield, vice presidents; Mrs. Richard Craig, secretary and Rodney Acton, treasurer.

Robby Hagler, president of the Junior Leadership Club, paid tribute to the 72 advisors present. He told the advisors that "as 4-H club members, we look to you for guidance, direction and help. We are happy to have the chance to be in your club; most of all we are happy that you gave us a chance to be junior leaders. Every 4-H advisor here tonight likes people, more specifically every 4-H advisor likes young people. Your interest in young people makes you an important part of the community."

Hagler concluded by saying that "as a 4-H member I expect you to teach me about a better life. I challenge you to inspire me to greater tasks ahead."

He then called the roll of advisors present, by the number of years of service and each was presented a Certificate of Service. There were 22 first - year advisors, 13 second - year, 11 third - year, four fourth - year eight five-year, six six - year, two seven - year, one ten - year, two 11 - year, two 12 - year and one 13 - year at the meeting.

Ray Brandenburg introduced members of the Fair Board and announced Fair Board had purchased the present Fairground tract only a few hours before the meeting. He was optimistic in his outlook for the future of the Fayette County Fair.

Mrs. Frank Dill, retiring president, discussed Council's activities of the past year. She said that "one of the most important and interesting projects which the Council has been working on is "looking ahead with 4-H club work here in Fayette County." She also gave some facts and figures relative to the Fayette County 4-H club program.

On behalf of the Council, she invited all the advisors to attend the next Council meeting at 8 p. m. Dec. 9 in the Farm Bureau auditorium. She urged advisors to be present and assist the Council with analyses of the 4-H program.

Mrs. Reynold Slaughter Jr., chairman of the Councils awards committee, announced the following clubs as Fayette County Honor Clubs in 1957: Bella Donna. with Mrs. Richard Craig and Mrs. Walter Carman, advisors; Button 'N Batter, with Mrs. Ancel Creamer and Mrs. Leola McClaskie, advisors; Jeffettes, with Mrs. Reynold Slaughter Jr., and Mrs. John Ritenour, advisors; Jolly Jumpers, with Mrs. Harold Moats, Mrs. Elza Arnold, Mrs. Emery Lynch and Mrs. John Williams, advisors; Magic Makers, with Mrs. Billie Wilson and Mrs. William Clarke, advisors; The Pixies, with Mrs. Joe Loudner and Mrs. Tom Hodson advisors; Seam and Steamettes, with Mrs. Forest Fry and Mrs. Bess Seaman, advisors; Thimble Sisters, with Mrs. Charles Lucas, advisor; Scizzor Whizzors, with Mrs. Walter Hyer, advisor; Wilson Country Sisters, with Mrs. Frank Dill and Mrs. Richard Rankin, advisors; Marion Marvels, with Mrs. Robert Klever and Mrs. Gerald Stephenson, advisors.

Associated County Agent Phil Grover introduced members of the state Agricultural Extension Service from Columbus. Miss Dorothy Gorby, associate 4-H club leader; Tom Jenkins, acting supervisor, southwestern Ohio; and H. W. Harshfield, state 4-H club leader. Each responded with congratulations to the advisors.

The Rev. Sanford Linsey, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, London, was the closing speaker for the evening. He commented on the effect of 4-H club work and stressed the importance of agriculture in progress of each nation and civilization. The Rev. Mr. Lindsey talked about the similarities of land and religion in each individual's life.

Fayette County Junior Leadership Club planned and presented the recognition banquet. Miss Linda McClaskie served as toastmistress and extended a welcome to the 72 4-H advisors, 41 junior leaders and 47 Fair Board members, friends of 4-H and guests present.

Retiring Junior Leader President David Whiteside presented to County Agent W. W. Montgomery a gift of robe from the Junior Leadership Club for his 35 years of help and guidance to the Fayette County 4-H club program.

Driving Rights Of Youth Restricted

Juvenile Court Judge Robert L. Brubaker Wednesday ordered a three - month pleasure driving license suspension for Charles L. Saxton, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Saxton of Jamestown.

Saxton appeared on a complaint filed by State Patrolman R. R. Sheline. He charged Saxton was driving recklessly at speeds in the neighborhood of 95 mph.

Art School Model Slows Workmen

LUTON, England (AP)—The Luton Art School hung a sheet across a studio window today to hide its nude model from steelworkers erecting a building next door.

"It wasn't so much that the model was embarrassed," said C. L. Skinner, head of the school, "but we got so many complaints from the foreman of the building."

The new building had risen steadily until it reached the level on which pretty Adele Mavis was posing in the raw. After that it rose no higher, and the workmen spent most of their time on the side next to the art school. The foreman investigated, saw Adele and appealed to Skinner.

Educators Eye Plan To Free 'Indifferent' School Pupils

COLUMBUS (AP)—Pupils 16 years of age or older who are indifferent to their studies could be excused from school under a recommendation that will be made at the Ohio Education Assn. convention here Ohio's compulsory school law would have to be revised.

Ohio law now requires compulsory attendance of all children until they become 18. The recommendation will be made Friday by the OEA's Education Council. The OEA's three-day convention opened today.

The recommendation is expected to touch off a debate between advocates of an outright reduction of the compulsory attendance age and those who favor the council's recommendation for "selective" measures.

The council report states that outright reduction in the compulsory attendance age "would permit many capable students to drop out" of school. The council will recommend not lowering the attendance age despite a recent survey of educators and juvenile workers that indicated nearly half of them favored lowering the attendance age to 16.

* * *

THE COUNCIL also will recommend sponsoring legislation to create "certificates of attendance" for students who have completed the necessary years of school attendance but who are not fully qualified scholastically to receive a diploma.

At an evening session today the OEA Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards will submit for approval a revised code of ethics. If adopted, it will give the OEA greater control over member conduct.

The revised code would change the recommended standards of the present code to minimum standards which members would be expected to meet. A spokesman explained that the wording of the present code, adopted in 1950, casts the standards in the form of goals which teachers should strive to attain, making any enforcement of standards almost impossible.

Linked with the new code will be a proposed constitutional amendment which would give the OEA authority to expel members guilty of "flagrant or continued violation of recognized professional standards."

Third Grade Class Visits Library Here

Thirty-five members of Miss Jean King's third grade class at Central School visited the Carnegie Public Library Wednesday as a part of the nationwide observation of this week as "Children's Book Week."

Mrs. Florence Cook, acting librarian, explained how the library here got its start and that it was currently supported by all taxpayers of the city and the county. "Thus," Mrs. Cook said, "this library building and all the books around you are literally owned by your parents All our facilities are at your command—it belongs to you and your parents."

Mrs. Cook also explained the arrangement of books throughout the library, the proper way to handle books and the courtesy and manners expected of a good library patron.

All student who did not have library cards were invited to register for them before they left the library.

Theme of this year's nationwide Children's Book Week is "Explore with Books." The library distributed posters and more than 3,000 bookmarks to all school children in the Miami Trace system and has an adequate supply of bookmarks in the library for any city child wishing one.

Two Are Treated After Accidents
